Edgar tops list for Metra grand opening

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Governor Jim Edgar will likely be one of the top dignitaries at the grand opening of the new Metra commuter service in Antioch on Sunday. Sources told Lakeland Newspapers that the state's top dog has confirmed his attendance at the ceremony Aug. 18.

"We're excited to have him come. We will be honored by his presence," said Mayor Marilyn Shineflug, who had not received an official notice of Edgar's attendance at the ceremony but was planning for him anyway.

When the new train station opens on appropriately-named Depot Street, a piece of history will also be repeating itself in Antioch.

While a lot of hoopla will prevail during the grand opening ceremony of Metra's "North Central Line" on Sunday, Antioch is no stranger to a commuter train.

The Aug. 18 ceremony marks the first start of a commuter train service in 70 years.

But the last time a commuter train stopped at a station on Depot Street was yesteryear in 1965.

"While it seems new, it's really re-starting a part of our heritage," noted Mayor Marilyn Shineflug.

The mayor speaks with optimism and high hopes about the new train station.

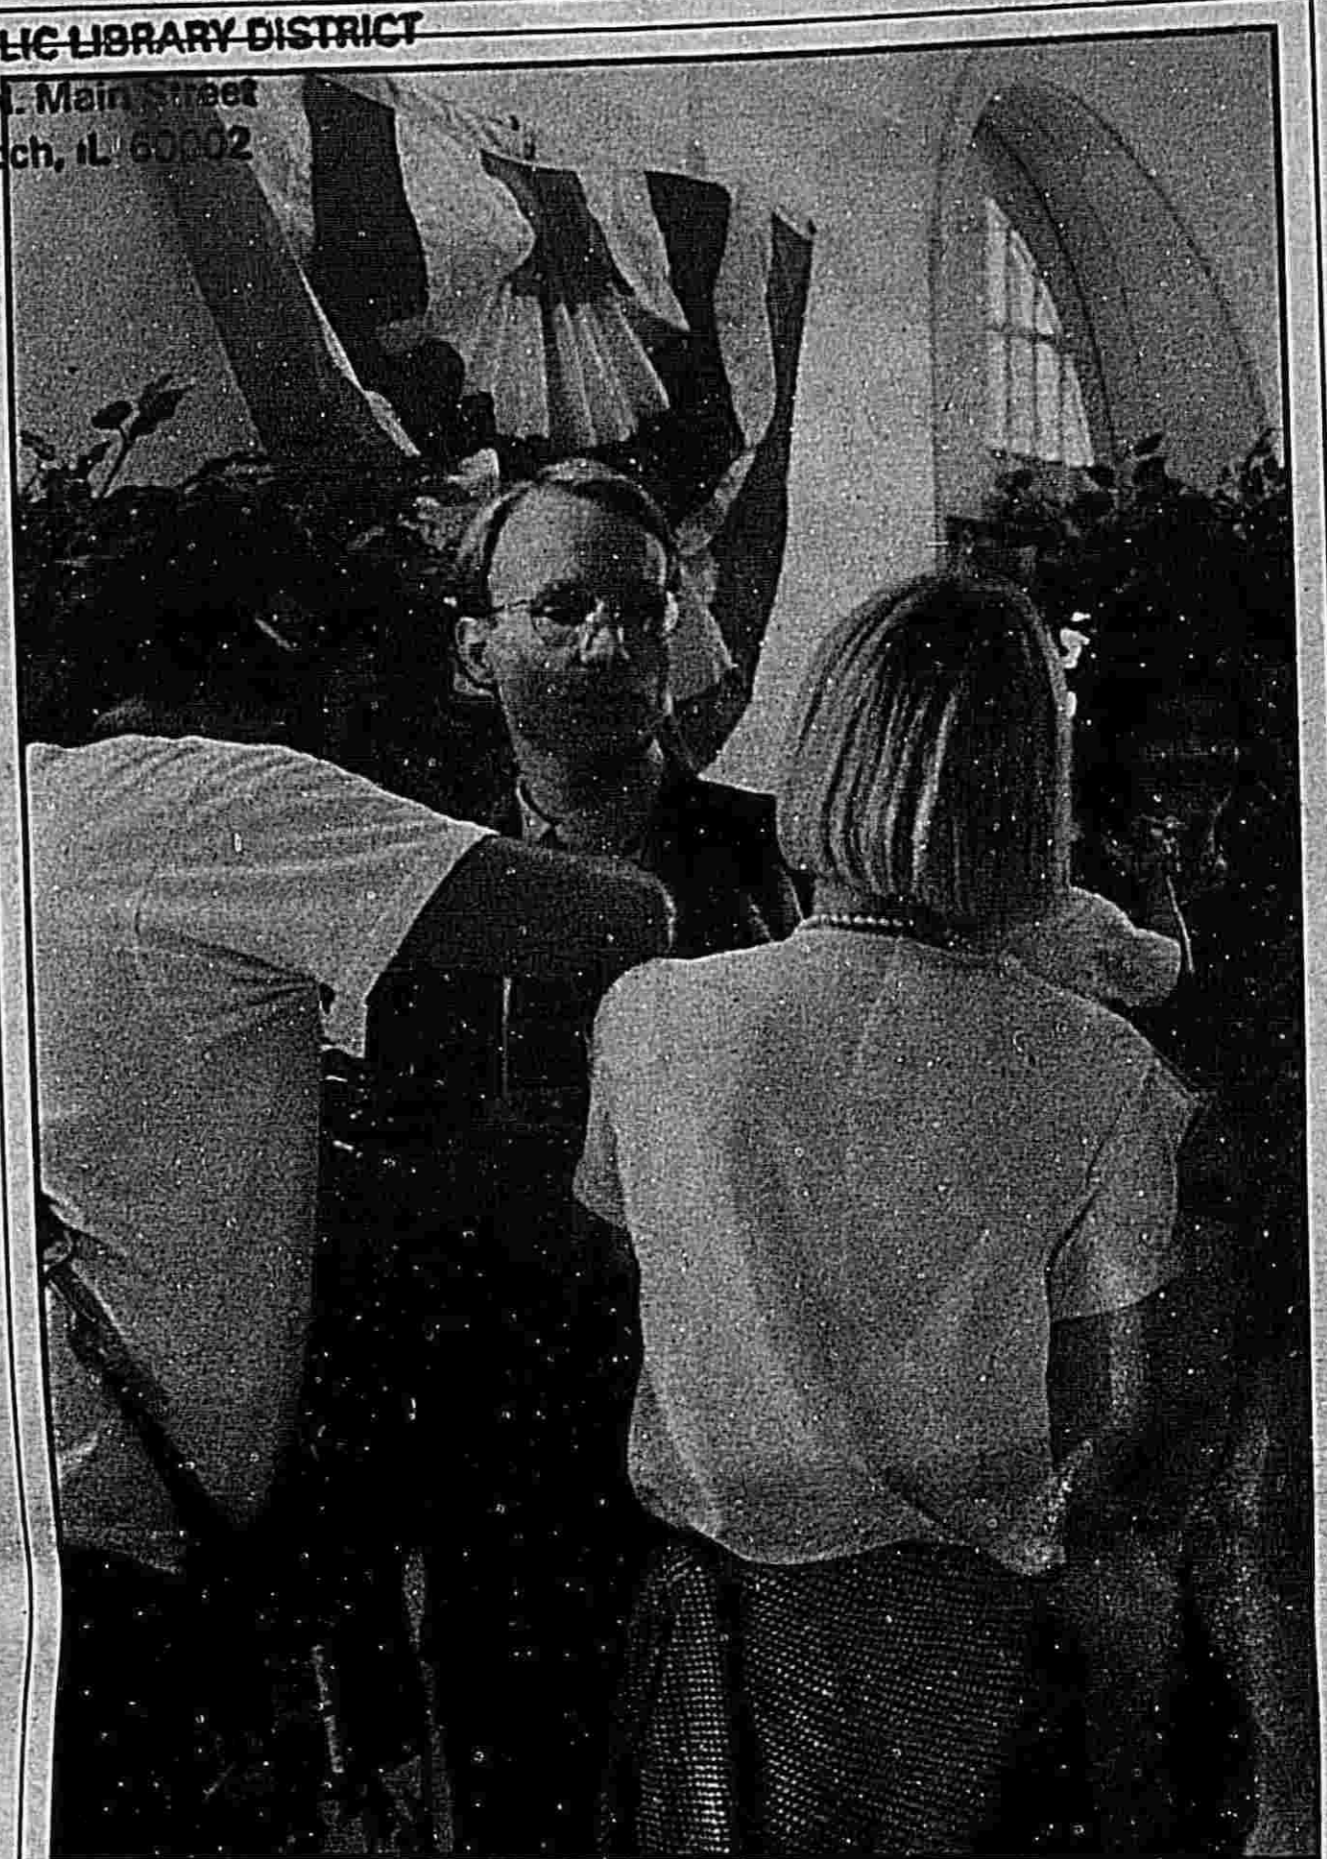

Just as in the earlier part of this century, she envisions Chicago socialites or weekend resorters using the train to enjoy the region's lakes. Some have second homes in the Antioch area.

"We expect to see some of that travel again," Shineflug said.

Train stations also have the natural tendency to boost the downtowns of villages. A train station in a downtown location brings people through town where the commuter may stop to shop, buy gas, or buy a sandwich or a cup of coffee.

"Anything like this makes the economy of the downtown stronger," said Shineflug, who was See DEPOT ST. page A10

Crash claims another life

Three passengers in convertible survive

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Another weekend passed in the Antioch area, and yet another fatal accident captured headlines.

Between deadly boating accidents on the Chain of Lakes, a fatal motorcycle accident claiming two young adults, a peculiar electrocution that shocked the lives out of a mother and son, and now another fatal car accident, the weekends in Antioch have been marred by tragedy this summer.

In the latest tragedy, 21-year-old Kristin Coyle died late Aug. 9 following a violent car accident on North Avenue and First Street near Lake Catherine in unincorporated Antioch Township.

Three other young men driving with Coyle were thrown from the car and were injured in the accident.

Surviving the accident were Anthony Frye, 16, of Antioch, and cousins Joseph Abbot, 17, and Travis Abbot, 17, of Round Lake Beach.

According to the Lake County Sheriff's Department, Coyle was driving a 1991 Ford Mustang convertible with the top down at about 11 p.m. Friday night.

As the vehicle approached a severe curve near First Street which essentially directs North Avenue from a westbound roadway into a northbound roadway, the car lost control, went off the road, spun in a circle, and rolled over several times before landing with its wheels facing the night sky.

"The car was northbound after coming out of a curve," said Corporal Tom Braze with the Lake County Sheriff's Department. "For some reason, the car went into a broad slide or a yaw and rotated several times. It struck several shrubs and trees and landed on its roof."

Coyle was trapped under the vehicle and pronounced dead at the scene. Antioch Rescue Squad responded.

The three passengers in the vehicle survived the ordeal.

"The passengers were all ejected from the vehicle as it was rolling over," Braze noted.

Two Flight for Life helicopters were called to the scene.

Frye, whose legs were pinned under the car, was transported to Friedert Lutheran See CRASH page A10

Damaged well forces water restriction

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

A mechanical failure in one of the village's wells has forced a sprinkling restriction for at least the remainder of the month or until further notice.

Effective immediately, the Village of Antioch established a water restriction. Sprinkling will only be permitted between the hours of 7 p.m. and 7 a.m.

Mike Ruxton, superintendent of the Water and Sewer Department, said the restriction comes as a result of a "mechanical failure in one of our wells." The damaged well is located downtown behind the Village Hall.

"It's a precautionary measure for water and safety reasons," Ruxton said.

He stressed that there is no reason to become alarmed.

Crews have already begun working on the site.

"We're going to have to replace the whole well," Ruxton said. "It probably will take the whole month to fix."

He estimates the cost to replace the well to range between $15,000 and $20,000.

Although the sprinkling restriction may be an inconvenience for some homeowners, Ruxton contends that watering in the evening is better for lawns.

"The best time to water is in the evening," he said.

During hot summer afternoons, Ruxton said water droplets from sprinkling act like magnifying glasses and tend to burn lawns more.

"If you water during the day, you can burn your lawn even more," Ruxton said.

For more information about the water restriction, call the Water and Sewer Department at 395-1881.

Zoning change may allow medical or law building

Antioch trustees supported a zoning change by the county that may pave the way for a new medical or law building just south of the village limits on Route 83.

In anticipation for a greater business environment coming to the Route 83 corridor, the property owner sought a zoning change from residential to commercial on a 65 x 223-foot lot just south of Georgetown furniture.

The Lake County zoning board approved the change from neighborhood conservation and suburban residential to commercial business.

"The property immediately adjacent to the parcel is zoned commercial," noted Building Commissioner Robert Silhan. "The furniture store is zoned for commercial use."

According to state statutes, when a county proposes a zoning change 1.5 miles from a village's limits, the village has the opportunity to reject or support the change.

Although the parcel is not a part of the Village of Antioch, Silhan noted, "It shows up on our comprehensive plan for urban zoning."

The entire Route 83 corridor is slated for state traffic improvements from two lanes to a full four-lane thoroughfare.

The property owner indicated a possible proposal for a law or medical building for the lot.

The board did not object to the zoning change.—by KEVIN HANRAHAN

'Serendipity' offers quiet B & B escape

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Quiet, relaxing and calming—those are probably the best three adjectives to describe the atmosphere surrounding the "Serendipity Bed and Breakfast." Physically, emotionally and spiritually refreshed will likely be the end result for almost anyone after a short stay—no matter how short the stay.

Nestled away on a small pocket of land bordering Antioch and Newport townships, the "Serendipity" is northern Lake County's first bed and breakfast.

The log-cabin home on a 12-acre prairie surrounded by farm fields and open land for as far as the eye can see is reminiscent of the opening scenes of the once popular television show "Little House on a Prairie."

"I want to keep the land as undisturbed as possible," said Diane Falk, who along with her husband, Merv, is the host and owner of the "Serendipity."

Between hardwood floors, oak bed frames and checkered table cloths, a country decor prevails within the log cabin. But it's the setting of the "Serendipity" that clears the mind from the stresses and hassles of life in the fast lane.

'People get so caught up in the stress of life that you forget this is all here,' Falk said.

'We provide entertainment that you can't buy.'

— Diane Falk

"It's a place where you can catch your breath," Falk said.

She said the adult-only bed and breakfast caters to the professional looking to escape from work, for newlyweds or anniversary couples looking for a taste of country, the weary traveler looking for a home-like bed, or a short-time visitor looking to take in the many attractions of northern Lake County.

"I'm not a restaurant; I'm not a hotel," Falk stressed. "This is specifically a special place for people who deserve a little TLC and quiet and solitude."

The "Serendipity" offers two suites. The "Hummingbird Suite" is the deluxe bedroom with a King Country French bed and a private bathroom. The "Butterfly Suite" is ideal for the single guests or the economy-minded couple pleased with a Queen Country French bed and bathroom several steps down the hall.

"We only have two suites, so it's private here," Falk said.

Both suites have private decks that overlook numerous wild flower gardens, open prairies, butterfly gardens and hummingbird gardens. Falk was a professional estate gardener before she painted her immediate landscape with the colors of wild flowers. She was also raised on a farm where she learned to be a steward of the Earth.

Guests can expect to fall asleep to the soothing sounds of blowing leaves on nearby oak trees and awakened to the purr of a hummingbird buzzing at the window.

"The sound of the leaves is as calming as the sound of the ocean," Falk pointed out.

With no children permitted, guests will only hear the cries of the wild and watch the play of butterflies fluttering over numerous flower boxes and gardens. Coyote, deer, and cranes are the only passersby.

"People get so caught up in the stress of life that you forget this is all here," Falk said. "We provide entertainment that you can't buy."

Television sets, VCRs and CD players are available for those who still feel the need to be connected. Guests also have refrigerator privileges.

Because of the nature of a bed and breakfast and Lake County zoning restrictions, the "Serendipity" only provides complimentary popcorn and a continental breakfast for meal services or as Falk pointed out, "Just enough to get them hungry enough to go to one of the fine local restaurants."

The "Serendipity" also provides a winter retreat. Its location is in proximity to Wilmet Mountain and Alpine Valley skiing areas and numerous cross country skiing trails.

A cozy fireplace for even extra ambiance is in the planning, Falk said.

Rates at the "Serendipity" are $125 for the Hummingbird Suite and $85 for the Butterfly Suite.

In order to maintain the Serendipity's peaceful and serene character, exact location and more information can be obtained by calling the Antioch Chamber of Commerce. Reservations can be made by calling "B & B" Midwest Reservations at 1-800-342-2632.

"For people who live in Lake County," Falk said, "it's not too far from home, but then again the atmosphere is far removed."

Northwest Lake County group plans for growth

Just as it may take an entire village to raise a child, it may require the input of the entire community to plan for the future education of that region.

Similar in thought, the Northwest Lake County Education Planning Group was formed as a think tank to plan for growth and rising enrollment in Antioch Community High School District 117.

"The goal of the group is the development of a comprehensive educational plan to meet the future needs of the community, such plan to be supported by educational, business, civic, and governmental leaders," noted Superintendent Dr. Dennis Hockney.

As a result of the projected population growth of the area, representatives from the five elementary school districts that send their students to ACHS attend the brainstorming sessions. Representatives will come from Antioch Consolidated Dist. 34, Emmons Dist. 33, Grass Lake Dist. 36, Lake Villa Dist. 41, and Millburn Dist. 24.

In addition, the mayors from the villages of Antioch, Lindenhurst, and Lake Villa have lent their support behind the consortium as well as representatives from the chambers of commerce.

"There is a realization that the growth of school enrollment is not just a school issue, but rather, because such growth impacts the entire community, a community issue," Hockney said. "That is why representatives from the villages and the chambers of commerce are involved."

The group will be assisted in its discussions by Professor Paul Thurston, head of the Department of Educational Organization and Leadership at the University of Illinois, Urbana Champaign.

Hockney said it is the intent of the organization to keep citizens informed of its activities through periodic news releases as well as through various organization newsletters.—by KEVIN HANRAHAN

Engle Dr. claims another victim

8-year-old hit running for ice cream

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

A West Miltmore boy died from injuries he sustained after he was struck by a car while attempting to cross Engle Drive. This is the second fatal accident on Engle Drive this summer and residents are concerned.

Jason Greer, 8, died a day after he had been hit. There were no tickets issued to the driver as a result of the accident, according to Cpl. Tom Braze of Lake County Sheriff's Department.

According to police and witness accounts, Greer was crossing Engle Drive, 200 feet east of Lawrence Drive, apparently running to an ice cream truck, when he was hit by a 1988 Mercury Marquis driven by a 65-year-old Lindenhurst man.

The accident occurred at 3:10 p.m., Aug. 8. Greer was flown by a Flight for Life helicopter to Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge.

Greer died as a result of injuries sustained in the accident at 9 a.m. on Aug. 9.

The driver of the Lincoln is not being identified because there was no indication he had done anything wrong, according to Braze.

"There was no indication of alcohol or drug use and no indication that he was speeding," Braze said.

The Sheriff's Department is doing an accident investigation. Deputies will recreate the accident to get a better idea of how it happened.

The accident investigation is yet to be completed.

Greer was to be a second-grader at Our Lady of Perpetual Help School in Glenview where his grandparents live.

This is the second death in West Miltmore in the last two months. A Round Lake motorcycle driver was killed when he apparently ran into a car making a left turn on Engle Drive.

West Miltmore Association President Joan Fischer is becoming increasingly impatient with Illinois Department of Transportation and what she perceives as stalling on traffic signals at Engle Drive and Rte. 83.

A moment of silence was observed at the last subdivision meeting.

"We had three deaths in the last year," Fischer said. "What does IDOT want, a body count?"

Fischer is concerned with the increased traffic on Rte. 83 which has led to more cut-through traffic on Engle Drive. She said the traffic is constant at all hours of the day.

Loud music leads to arrest

While on patrol, Aug. 9, police stopped a vehicle for "excessively loud music." Police arrested Kevin Kaminski, 21, of Antioch. After stopping him, police learned his driver's license was not valid. Kaminski was charged with driving with no valid license and for playing excessively loud music. He was released on recognizance bond and will appear in Grayslake court Sept. 25.

Cracked windshield tips off police

Police stopped a vehicle Aug. 10 for having a "badly cracked windshield." After further investigation, Dante Parks, 34, of Antioch, was arrested. Police learned his driver's license was suspended. He was charged with driving with a suspended driver's license and for having a defective windshield. He was released on recognizance bond and will appear in Grayslake court Sept. 11.

Police locate, arrest burglars

While on routine patrol Aug. 9, police recognized two suspects wanted by the Lake County Sheriff's Department for burglary. Police arrested without incident Ramon Lebron, 20, of Antioch, and Freddy Zuniga, 18, of Waukegan. Both offenders were taken into custody without incident. They were both wanted on $45,000 bond each for burglary. They were held for the Lake County Sheriff Department.

Police recognize offenders

While on patrol Aug. 11, police stopped and arrested William Powers, 30, of Antioch. According to reports, police had "prior knowledge" that his driver's license was revoked. Police stopped Powers and checked on the status of his driver's license. He was charged for driving while revoked. He was released on recognizance bond and will appear in Grayslake court Sept. 11.

Police arrested William Wons, 24, of Antioch, for having a warrant out for his arrest for driving under the influence. Police observed Wons walking on Main Street and had prior knowledge that Wons was wanted by the Lake County Sheriff's Department for DUI. He was held for Lake County Sheriff's Department officers.

Cadillac suspect in hit and run

ELIZABETH EAKEN
Staff Reporter

A clue has been uncovered in the unsolved Aug. 1, hit and run accident in Grayslake. Police are looking for a 1990-91 charcoal gray Cadillac Fleetwood Brougham in connection with an accident involving bicyclist Nathan Ovitt 21, of Mundelein. The car may have damage to the front passenger side near the bumper or grill area.

Ovitt was struck at approximately 12:10 a.m. as he was riding his bike north on Route 45, south of Route 120. He was taken to Condell Medical Center of Libertyville following the accident and was in serious condition. Ovitt was transferred to St. Therese Medical Center's Rehab department Aug. 12.

The vehicle was identified through evidence taken from the scene and submitted to the Northern Illinois Police Crime Lab for examination. Grayslake Police Chief Dennis Koletsos said the officers from the department and the crime lab did a fantastic job with the evidence.

"It was recovered from pieces of the vehicle at the scene and trace evidence from the bike. The crime lab matched microscopic fibers," said Koletsos. He explained their lab is able to match every type of auto paint and fiberglass.

When asked if he thought this case would remain unsolved as did the fatal hit and run of a teen walking home from work this winter in Round Lake Beach, Koletsos remained optimistic. In that case the vehicle type was identified but never located.

"I don't know that this will be any easier but we're hoping to solve it, he said. "This is a good lead in the case and we're feeling confident we will find the vehicle."

If the driver is located, the driver would be charged with failure to stop and render aid in a personal injury accident, but whether any charges beyond that would be given depend on the circumstances of the accident, which aren't fully known at this time, said Koletsos.

"In many cases like this the person panics and realized they should have stopped . . . many times drivers are remorseful but afraid of charges they'll face. It really depends on the circumstances at the time," he explained.

Talk about being caught by surprise

As mature adults we would like to think we can juggle parenthood, successful careers and a happy marriage, doing them all justice but giving up nothing in return. As much as we hate to admit it, we have come to realize that once the second and third bedrooms of our homes begin to fill up with our heirs, spontaneity, as we knew it as young adults, leaves via the back door.

JINGLE FROM PRINGLE

LYNN

395-6364

Case in point: various members of our family have been making an annual pilgrimage up to the Wisconsin Dells since before the legal drinking age turned 21 and minimum wage was about $1.38. There was a time in our younger years when we would spend carefree days plunging down water slides, playing demolition derby in bumper boats and drag racing in go-carts.

At days end we would return to our mom-and-pop-type hotel, shower, change clothes and prepare ourselves for an evening of "Swigs At Nig's." But this is the '90s and oh how times have changed. As moms and dads of young children we now spend our days trekking through Storybook Gardens and Deer Park. Gone are the days of Noah's Ark and Dungeon of Horrors.

We now find ourselves rooming for the weekend in fancy hotels that cater to children with their kiddie pools and jungle gyms. Good-bye to the days of driving up on Friday and stopping at the first hotel flashing a "Vacancy" sign. We now reserve suites with refrigerators to keep formula cold and microwaves to heat bottles up. Remember the days of jamming seven teenagers in a room with two double beds?

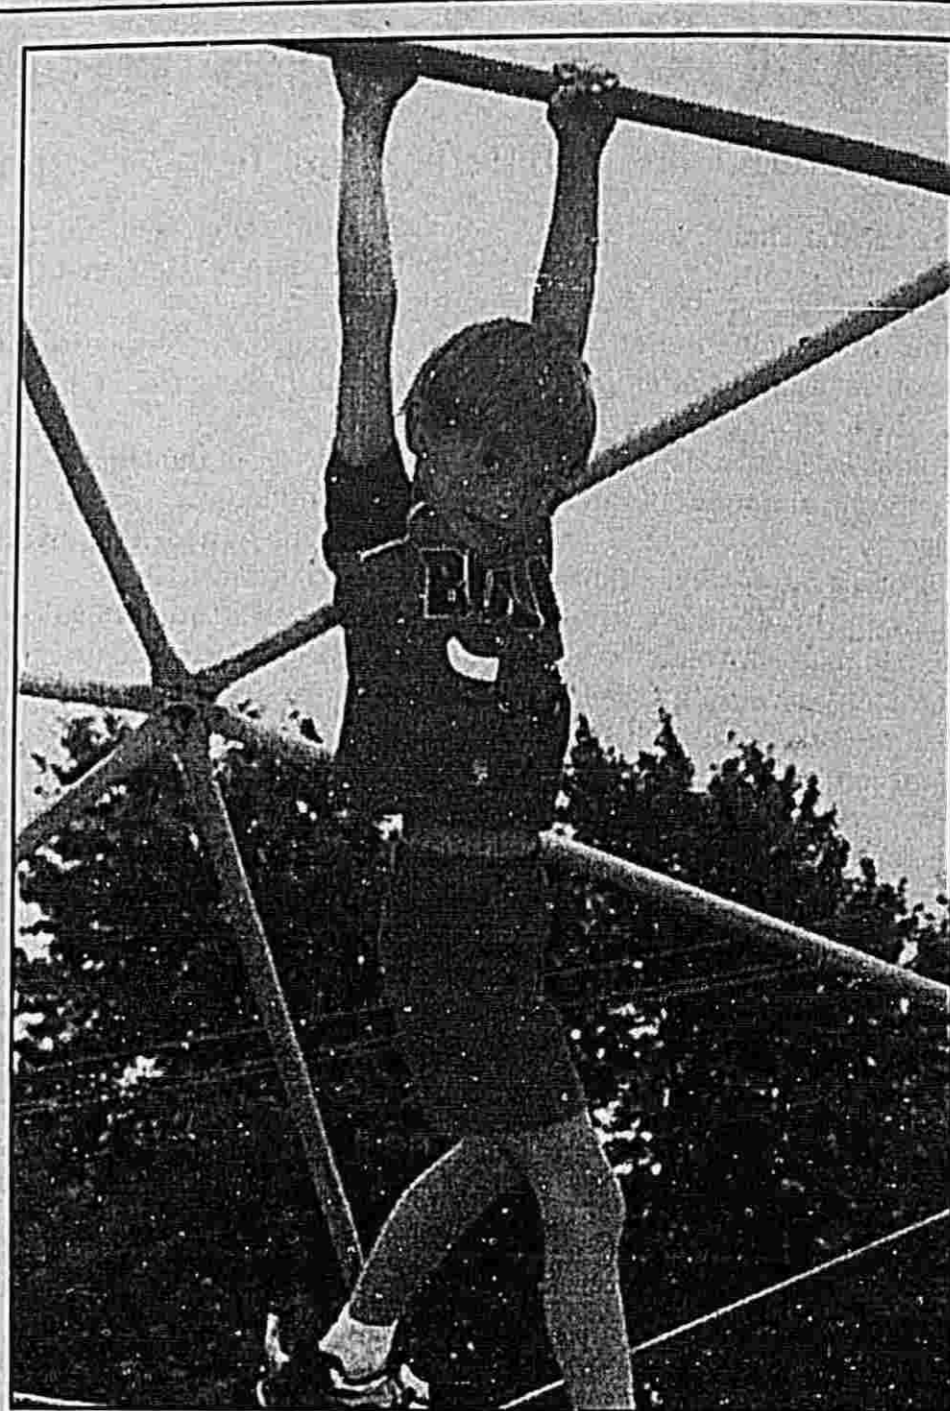

We use to fill our non-air-conditioned, muffler dragging, radio-blastin' car with whatever friends had enough money in their pockets to help finance the rock-n-roll weekend. We never thought of checking the contents of the gas tank for the return trip home before we spent all the change in our pockets, so the drive home Sunday night found us wondering if we were going to make it before the tank emptied.

Wondering that is, not worrying. Now the highways are clogged with deluxe mini-vans sporting moms and dads and their children as well as grandma and grandpa all snug in seat belts and protected by air-bags and American Express Gold Cards. Those of us who dare to venture out in public with the children in tow, walk "the strip" wearing polo shirts, khaki shorts and loafers while pushing all terrain strollers and toting diaper bags.

Whatever happen to the era of stuffing two bathing suits, a pair of jeans, and a clean T-shirt into a duffel bag and taking turns carrying a very full cooler? In this day and age I recognize the other faces we pass as we stroll along with our children. Their look is oh so familiar. Although I have never been personally introduced to these people, their eyes tell the whole story. Maybe its the blank stare, or the laden-down walk. Perhaps its the language they have resorted to; colorful bar room dialect no longer crosses their lips, in its place are words like "potty," "binky," "non" and "because." It's an epidemic sweeping the nation, crossing all boundaries of race, religion and class.

It snuck up on us and filled our very being, slapping us square in the face like a potent dose of reality. We have developed into something our parents never thought would be possible—we have become responsible adults. And so goes another "Jingle From Pringle" don't forget to call 395-6364.

New Chain spot fosters family fun at Parrot's Cove

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Cruising the Chain O' Lakes and looking to dock somewhere that is family friendly and inviting for children?

Newly opened "Parrot's Cove" Resort and Bar in Antioch on Channel Lake just might be the place where the kids can swim on a sandy beach and have an ice cream while mom and dad grab a lunch at the deli and a refreshment at the bar before returning to the Chain.

Tucked away in a cozy cove near the channel that links Channel Lake with Lake Marie, Parrot's Cove will officially celebrate its grand opening Aug. 17.

Owned and operated by the Diebold Family, Parrot's Cove wants to appeal to families enjoying the lakes on the Chain.

"We really want to make it a nice place for families," noted Pat Diebold, who along with her husband, Henry, her daughter, Shari, and son, Dan, have taken on the new family business.

Actually, the Diebolds came upon the former resort and bar by mistake, and now they have a chance to fulfill each of their dreams.

Pat wanted to run a resort and campground, Henry had dreams to operate a marina, while Shari and Dan wanted to run an upscale bar.

"By accident each of our dreams is happening one at a time," Pat Diebold noted. "Several dreams are coming true all at once."

The property includes 13 cottages and 24 trailers. Pat indicated the desire to attract more upscale trailers with pointed roofs like homes.

The marina offers 36 boat slips and a large dock to welcome passersby. The Diebolds have noticed that the docks have become a popular fishing spot for early-morning anglers.

"They're out here every morning," Shari Diebold said. "They have caught channel cats, muskies and northern right off the pier."

The lakefront bar boasts seven different micro brews on tap. The popular domestic beers are available in bottles.

"There's a big market for micro beers," Shari Diebold said. "It's better beer, and they offer a better variety."

In addition to the early-morning fishermen, one of the main attractions thus far has been the beach.

"It's one of the few free sand beaches open to boaters," Pat Diebold noted.

Also in the works is a picnic grove near the beach, horseshoes, and possibly sand volleyball.

During the grand opening Saturday, Captain Morgan, the pirate, and the Morgannettes will be entertaining children and adults throughout the day.

"The people who come in here are all great," Diebold said. "They come here just for a good time."

Pat Diebold and her daughter, Shari, advertise the grand opening of newly opened Parrot's Cove Resort in Channel Lake. The grand opening on Aug. 17 will include Captain Morgan and the Morgannettes.

Moms, sons to 'Splish, Splash' at pool

Mom, now it's your turn to spend quality time with your son as moms will have the chance to jump into the pool with their sons.

The Antioch Parks and Recreation Department will be holding its first annual "Mother Son Splish Splash Pool Bash."

"This is the first one. We have never organized a mother/son night," noted Rachel Beattie of the parks department.

The first "Splish Splash Pool Bash" will be held Sept. 6 from 6 to 8 p.m.

The idea for a mother/son night was spawned after the success of the Daddy Daughter Date Nite held at Antioch Community High School.

"Moms were kind of jealous of the success of the Father/Daughter dance," Beattie said. "They wanted to do something with their sons."

In addition to swimming, there will be food, games, face painting, clowns and a moon walk.

"There will be other things to do besides swimming," Beattie noted.

Instead of having pictures taken, a little personal touch will be added. Moms and sons will have the opportunity to have a caricature drawing done together.

The event is $15 per couple, and $5 for each additional child. Cost includes all expenses.

Registration will be held at the Parks and Recreation Office. For more information, call 395-2160.

Programs offered for tots, preschool and young students

Three different programs for young children will be offered through the Antioch Department of Parks and Recreation.

Registration for "Camp Crayon," "Me, Myself and Mom," and the "Village Campus" will be held Aug. 17 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the parks office.

Camp Crayon is a preschool program for children age 3 to 5. Cost is $55 for village residents, per six-week session. The class meets two times a week for three hours a day. A $25 deposit is required at time of registration.

Me, Myself and Mom is a mom and tot program.

"We will meet new friends, play new games, do various crafts and learn new songs," organizers said. "Our program is designed to introduce 2- and 3-year-olds to activities."

The program is 12 weeks long and meets on Fridays. Cost for the program is $45 for village residents and is required at time of registration.

Village Campus is a before and after school program for children in first through sixth grade. The program meets from 7 a.m. until school begins and after school until 6 p.m.

The program also provides care for young students on institute days and most school holidays.

For more information about the three programs, call 395-2160.

GOOD SKATES

When it comes to buying ice skates for children, the best choice may not necessarily be the most expensive. The most important criterion is proper fit.

Too many parents purchase skates larger than they should be with the thought that they will continue to fit for several seasons as the child's foot grows. But loosely fitting skate boots make it difficult for youngsters to skate, or even stand. Worse, they might be the cause of injuries to the ankle or foot.

Proper fit means that the heel is held snugly in the boot's heel cup, the toes come close to the front, and the boot provides adequate support. Skating socks should be worn when trying on skates for correct fit.

If a child's foot has a tendency to turn inward with each stride, an evaluation by a podiatrist is in order. A customized orthotic insert could improve skating ability and enjoyment.

Rules of Road easy with free classes

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

Taking a refresher course can't hurt, and more than likely it will help, says Rules of the Road instructor Donna Mae Litwiler.

The Illinois Secretary of State's office has a calendar full of free classes which are taught throughout three counties, Lake, McHenry and Cook.

Through Secretary of State George Ryan, the Rules of the Road for any age can aid as an important tool for drivers.

"It's a refresher course for everyone," said Litwiler. "We all acquire poor driving skills and we forget the correct ones," she explained. Some of the most common lack of proper driving procedures include not coming to a complete stop before entering a driveway and also not using turn signals, even when no one appears to be on the road.

Drivers can brush up on their skills tremendously by participating in one of the classes, she added.

On the first Thursdays of the month at 9:30 a.m., classes are held at the Fox Lake Community Center, sponsored by Grant Township supervisor Gordy Kiesgen.

In Warren Township, the Rules of the Road classes are held the first Monday of the month at 10 a.m. Warren Township supervisor Bob Depke sponsors the classes.

The Wauconda Township hall plays host to the courses on the first Friday of each month. The hall is located at 505 Bonner Road in Wauconda.

At the Antioch Senior Center, Litwiler will be teaching classes on Sept. 9 at 10 a.m. at the site located at 817 Holbeck Road.

Drivers from three counties will participate in the Cuba Township Office located at 28000 W. Cuba Road, Barrington. Township supervisor Mark Beaubien Jr. is sponsoring the events held every third Wednesday of the month at 9:30 a.m.

The Round Lake Senior Center is the place where drivers can go to get their refresher course on the road rules. The next class is Sept. 13 at 9:30 a.m.

The next Lake Villa classes at the Lake Villa Library are on Aug. 26 at 9:30 a.m.; and then at the Cedar Village senior center on Sept. 23 at 9:30 a.m.

Classes are also taught in Deerfield and Highland Park, said Litwiler.

Super Senior day will take place at the Firststar Bank in Fox Lake, Sept. 12, from 9:30 a.m. Both Rules of the Road and State I.D. cards will be issued to drivers in the senior citizen age range during the double program.

Future plans include holding classes at the Lakeland Community Bank in Round Lake.

For more information on classes, contact the Secretary of State's office at (800) 252-2904.

also largely responsible for saving local taxpayers between $125,000 and $175,000 by trashing overly high construction bids for the station.

It also brings commuters from other villages, such as Spring Grove, or from southern Wisconsin to the downtown business district.

A train station also makes the entire village more marketable. It provides another mode of transportation to Chicago's Loop, Chicago's entertainment and cultural menu, and the world with a transfer to O'Hare Airport.

"It makes us more of a full-service community by offering another form of transportation to Chicago," Shineflug pointed out.

Along the same lines, it attracts new homebuyers to the area.

Antioch has several new subdivisions waiting to be completed.

"I see it promoting steady growth," Shineflug said. "I don't see it triggering uncontrolled growth."

Shineflug warned that the train station was not going to be an immediate panacea.

Only a limited amount of trains will be heading for Chicago. For now, there will be three trains available during the morning and evening rush hours. There will also be a single afternoon train, but no weekend service.

Regular service officially begins Monday.

"It symbolizes the re-opening of commuter service to the entire area," Shineflug said of the new train station that stands near the site of the former train station for which Depot Street was named.

During the past two decades his signature has been on no fewer than nine number one singles in Adult-Contemporary Christian music rankings. His songs have been recorded by Sandi Patti, Amy Grant, Pat Boone, The Imperials and opera star Placido Domingo. Brown intersperses his ballads with lively African and island rhythms.

He is among those spearheading a new musical thrust using music to help mobilize Christians with a vision for the nations. In 1983, Brown founded "I CARE" Ministries (International Christian Artists Reaching the Earth). This ministry trains and equips Christian musicians to evangelize the nations. In 1989 Brown held the first publicly-promoted Christian music event in the USSR. He has taken over 100 musicians on trips to the mission field and provided hundreds of musical instruments to musicians and missionaries in third world and restricted access countries.

Waterway to tour seawall projects

The Fox Waterway Agency will host one of its biggest tours ever, which will span the Chain O' Lakes and the Fox River.

The Aug. 20 tour will begin at Lion's Park in Fox River Grove, with the viewing of a shoreline protection project. Gusts will see the new A-jack breakwater biotechnical shore protection project.

Lunch will be served, and then on to more areas including the Grass Lake grant demonstration project.

A number of impressive guests have been invited to attend the all-day event. Among them are officials from villages, townships and both the state and federal Environmental Protection agencies, as well as a number of Conservation Department figures.

The Fox Waterway Agency has been working with the Illinois Department of Natural Resources State Water Survey on the projects for the past two years. The projects have been funded by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, to consider economically and environmentally desirable alternative to seawalls and set the tour with federal, state and local officials to view and discuss what has been learned from the projects.

for whomever shows up. President Clinton has been invited as well as Republican presidential hopeful Bob Dole. Planners were told to have an area for a possible helicopter landing—just in case.

Other confirmed dignitaries expected to attend include State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis, State Rep. Robert Churchill, Libertyville Mayor Jo Ann Eckmann, and several Metra officials.

Metra chose Antioch as the site to hold the grand ceremony for the first commuter train start-up in 70 years. The grand opening for the "North Central Service" will begin at 1 p.m. and last until about 1:40 when invited guests will ride the train from Antioch to downtown Chicago.

A large 100-foot tent will be pitched to house the opening ceremonies.

A corps of volunteers from the Beautification Committee has been busy adding some flowery touches to the new train station located on Depot Street.

The Antioch VFW will present the colors, and the Antioch Upper Grade Band is expected to perform. The band will be directed by Steve Newcomb, a singer with the locally popular a cappella group "The Discords."

Representatives from the VFW are also expected to fire rifles right when the train blasts through a large paper banner marking the opening of the new service.

"It's going to be a festive occasion," promised Shineflug.

The mayor and village officials had been busy coordinating the construction of the new train station this week as crews work diligently to complete as much of the depot as possible.

While the station may not be functional for the ceremony, it will be standing—bricks and all.

"I appreciate the effort put into the project by JAM development and our village engineer to finish this as quickly as possible."

Portions of Orchard and Depot streets will be temporarily closed during the event. Parking and bus service will be available at Antioch Community High School. Parking at Antioch Lower Grade School will be reserved for people will special passes.

Nevertheless, the red carpet will be pulled out for this historic event.

"It is an opportunity for players (sophomores, juniors and seniors) to gain additional experience," Gene Hanson, CLC baseball coach, said.

An organizational meeting will be held at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Aug. 31 at the physical education center at CLC, building seven. A $40 fee will be charged.

For more information, call Gene Hanson, CLC athletic director, at 223-3600.

Vikings must soon answer challenge of MFL foes

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Getting to the top of the heap is one thing. As the Lake County Vikings have learned, it is another when the entire league is gunning for you. Such was the case in a 10-6 upset at the hands of the Indiana Wolverines.

A second-half comeback try fell short. QB Adam Tesch threw a 35-yard TD strike to Mike Connell for the Vikes' lone score.

"We did not have enough bodies. We were missing four starters on each side of the line and our quarterback and starting running backs," Vikings coach Russ Kraly said.

The loss marked the first time in Kraly's eight-year association with the club that the semi-pro football team has lost the opening game.

They will try and bounce back when they host Midway Jets at 6 p.m. Aug. 17 at Round Lake High.

"We will be making some changes. I am tired of their lackadaisical attitude because we wear the crown that other teams will fall down and die. Everybody is shooting for us - the way Indiana celebrated, you would have thought they won the Super Bowl," Kraly said.

The Midwest Football League defending champion Vikings were shorthanded because the starters were enroute to the game at Mundell High into the second quarter. A first-quarter Indiana field goal made it 3-0. Jerry Nash, pressed into QB duties, threw a pass which was intercepted and ran back for an Indiana TD and a 10-0 lead at halftime.

"The idea was to run the football because we knew the starters were en route. In fact, they were in the parking lot when the pass was thrown," Kraly said.

The Vikings registered 275 yards in total offense after Adam Tesch, starting QB, and the other starters arrived. Penalties and a fourth down incomplete pass killed a two-minute rally. "We were inside the 10 two times and inside the 20 three times," Kraly said.

Connell is a second-year Viking who earlier played in Racine.

Also on the highlight list were Jason Leford's fourth interception, and Josh Christensen had a sack and a 10-yard run after an interception. Pat Cunningham had two QB sacks.

But at Tuesday's practice, it was back to the drawing board. Kraly was hoping for some new faces as well, as it is not too late for a back-up quarterback or offensive line candidates to come out.

"We beat the Jets in a scrimmage, but that was only a scrimmage. They have a fast tailback, and their numbers are up. There are no push-overs in this league," Kraly warned.

ACHS golfers prepare to tee it up for a new season

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

It is back to the links when the Antioch High golfers resume practices in preparation for the new fall season.

Double-session practices during the entire first week starting Aug. 19 will start at 7 a.m. and end around 10 a.m. with the evening sessions beginning at 6 p.m. at Spring Valley golf course in Salem, Wis.

In order to begin practice, each golfer must have a current physical exam on file, along with properly completed parent permission-training rule-waiver forms. The ACHS home course is located at Rte. 83 three miles north of Antioch.

"We expect a good turnout. There is no experience is necessary in order to tryout for golf at ACHS this fall. Besides an outstanding varsity schedule, we have a full junior varsity schedule of meets that will be helpful for our younger golfers," Wapon said.

The Sequoits finished their best-ever fifth place in the Inter Suburban Conference, and fifth in the Waukegan regional. The top four teams go on to sectional.

The Sequoits lose "lots of leadership in four-time MVP Sarah Murphy and Kelly Periman," Wapon said.

Senior Marissa Blasko, junior Abby Clark, senior Lisa Murphy, senior Angie Pederson, senior Sarah Rockow and junior Jessica Shore are the group which will be looked to for new leadership.

"They have some experience on the varsity," Wapon said.

Junior DeAnne Dalgard, soph Kristen Hungarland and soph Kacy Sehmer are expected to add depth. Two promising freshmen are Sarah Groah and Brittany Cable.

The season starts with an away meet Aug. 28 at Palatine. Antioch hosts Warren High, a new team, on Aug. 29.

Lake Villa Broncos gain 3 wins to close season

Three victories and many learning experiences were among the benefits the Lake Villa Broncos received at a regional tournament in Minneapolis. The 3-2 mark closed the season at 55 wins for the 11 and 12-year old team. "It was great. The kids had a lot of fun and played well," Ryan Pendergast, coach, said.

Chris Kocinski earned second place in a home run hitting contest. "He has been real consistent the last couple of years," coach Pendergast said.

Kocinski was 8-of-12 with 3 triples, a home run and 9 RBIs in the tournament. Other big contributors on offense included: Kevin Pendergast, 7-of-14 with 4 RBIs; Brad Hoogerhyde 7-of-11; Trent Domel 5-of-8 with 2 RBIs and Kyle Davis 4-of-11 with 5 RBIs.

The squad lost its first game, 10-8 to Minnesota Orioles but came back to post three straight wins.

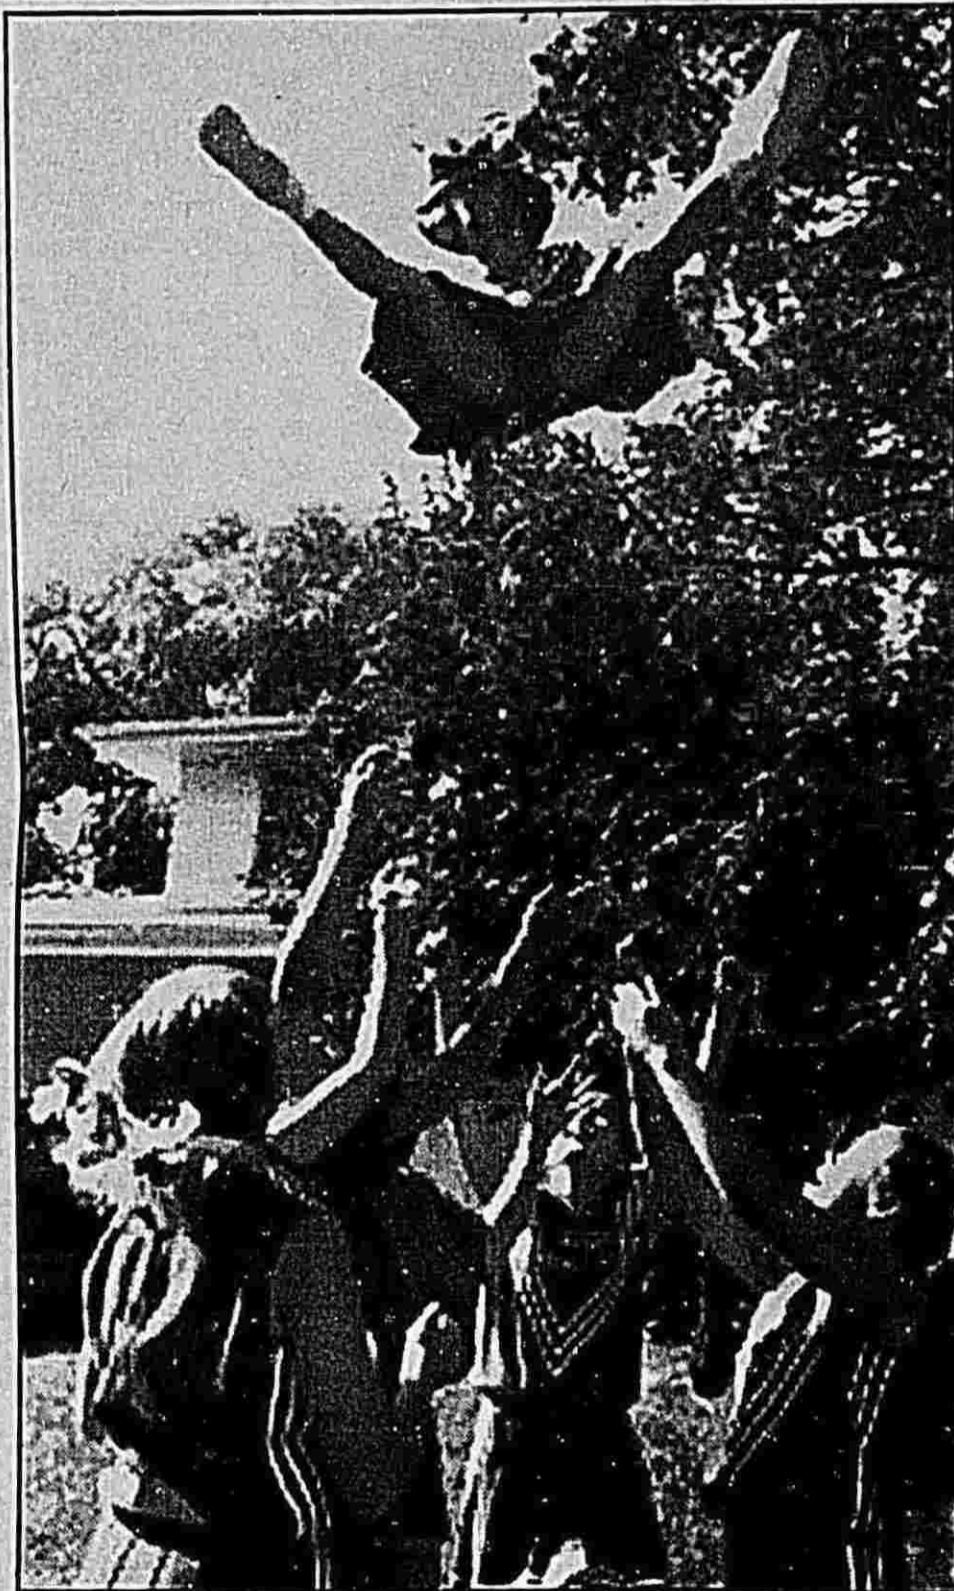

Kevin Pendergast fired a 1-hitter and fanned 5 batters in a 9-1 win over Minnesota Rebels. "His knuckleball was working real good," Pendergast, the coach, said.

Kocinski was 3-of-3 with 2 RBIs; Domel was 2-of-2 with 2 RBIs; Rick Blocker had a hit and an RBI. Kocinski gained the win in a 3 hit, 10 strikeout effort in a 7-2 win over Springfield. "His fastball worked well," coach Pendergast said.

Shawn Schueler had 2-of-3 with 2 runs scored and Hoogerhyde was 2-of-4. Schueler and Kevin Pendergast combined for 8 strikeouts in a 9-5 win over Maple Lake, Minn. Down 2-0 early, Lake Villa bounced back to win. Scott Straub was 2-of-3 with 2 doubles; Davis had a hit and RBI. The final game pitted Lake Villa against Michigan Blue. Lake Villa was up 4-2 until a 3-run seventh inning end the season. Overall, the squad was 55-14 and in the AABC, 31-3. The team had eight 12-year olds and four 11-year olds.

"The coaching staff has been together for a couple of years and we learned a lot, too," coach Pendergast said.

John Chapman, Phil Schueler and Bill Straub are the assistants.

Indians notch 20th victory, close year on bright note

The Zion Indians gained the 20th win of the year as they topped Kenosha 5-3 at Simmons Field.

Josh Norvell gained the win for the Zion-based baseball team as he struckout 8 and walked only one in a complete game effort.

"He had his fastball and breaking ball working well. He never weakened. He could have gone 15 innings," Indians player-manager Bill Stranowicz said.

It was Norvell, a Zion resident, who won his first game for the Indians. Former Warren High and College of Lake County players make up the Indians, Shoreline League champs and 20-5 overall.

Stranowicz was 3-of-4 with a double and 2 RBIs. "I changed my stance to more of a (Sammy) Sosa stance and cocked the bat back. I hit a double off the wall in right field," Stranowicz said.

Bill Duncan had 2 hits with a double and a triple and 2 RBIs.

Scott Novotny was 2-of-4 with an RBI. The Indians had 9 hits.

Chiefs' defense, offense dominating in opener

The first few plays of the fourth quarter summed up the kind of day the Chicago Cavaliers' offense was in for Sunday.

Dennis Lane sacked the Cavs quarterback for a 10-yard loss. After an incomplete pass, Dan Halverson and teammates teamed up for an 8-yard loss.

'We did not call many stunts because we felt confident in the offensive line.'

— John Burns, Chiefs linebacker

The game was well decided by then, as the Cavs offense could not move the football after a kickoff return for a TD. The Chiefs went on for a 38-8 semi-pro football opener.

"We got off the ball well," Lane said.

"Our defense did a real good job," assistant coach John Patterson agreed. "The defensive line did an outstanding job as Randy Jones and Lane had three or four sacks each," he said.

The Chiefs, 1-0, face the Chicago Thunder at 12 p.m. Aug. 18 at Hanson Stadium in Chicago.

The defense was in the hands of former Carmel High linebacker John Burns. Burns was calling the defensive signals in the absence of head coach Al Clark.

"We did not call many stunts because we felt confident in the offensive line," Burns said.

Burns said the coaching duties were different for him, as he also had to deal with who wanted to play where in addition to how to stop running backs and wide receivers.

Patterson said the transition worked well. "The players know their roles well," he said.

Halverson and Burns teamed up for a sack which helped make amends for the early Cavs TD.

Burns likes the team's chances of advancing far in the Chicago Football League. "We have a lot of friendships and we get along on and off the field very well," the six-year semi-pro veteran said.

The QB duties were split between James McMillan in the first half and Malcolm Smith in the second half.

McMillan threw for TD passes to Ronnie Spates from 19 and 26 yards out. McMillan got into the act himself with a 2-yard TD run and Pernell Moore scored on a 32-yard run and a two-point conversion.

Smith broke into the Cavs secondary for a 29-yard TD in the fourth.

"The last TD I was surprised that I was in the open. I would rather throw for touchdowns," he said.

"Today the line played really well and did a good job," Smith said.

Smith was playing on the same field where he led the North Chicago Warhawks to a 1990 playoff bid. He would like to do the same for the Chiefs.

Hepfner scores first at Wilmot

First year sprint car warrior Todd Hepfner of Sussex led flag to flag to score his first ever Budweiser Racing Series 25-lap feature victory on Wisconsin Fans For Auto Racing Night at Wilmot Speedway.

Ryan Mathews of Lake Geneva, Wis. held off Steve Reidel Jr. for his second 15-lap J&L Oil Mini-Sprint Series main win. Defending champion Rob Olson of Lake Villa, finally saw victory lane after his first 15-lap IMCA modified feature win of the year. Phil Schultz of Silver Lake won his second 12-lap mini-modified main this season.

"Kurt (Davis) gave me quite a battle, but we were able to stay in front even though our engine still isn't running up to par," said Hepfner, the 1995 Wilmot modified champion and leading 1996 Wilmot Lundy/Miller Excavating rookie of the Year candidate. "It was great to see Troy win a few weeks ago, and it feels even greater now for me."

Hepfner put his Paul Schmidt Trucking/Glen Hepfner Inc. Stealth into the lead from outside row one and was never headed in the non-stop main. Davis kept the heat on as the two worked lapped traffic, but settled for runner-up by less than a car length. Dave Bliss was third.

Joe Kristan's fourth place finish boosted him back atop the sprint season standings by 4-points over Jim Moulis. John Hajduk took fifth.

"I kind of was glad to see the yellow because my motor was bogging down in the lapped traffic," said Mathews, referring to the only caution with five laps remaining as Steve Reidel Jr. hounded Mathews for the lead. "I appreciate the fans coming out and supporting us because if it weren't for them, we wouldn't have a place to race."

Mathews wasted no time putting his Wilson Industrial Doors/Sippel Racin/Bailey Chassis in front from his pole position. Reidel worked into second from sixth on lap 5, keeping the pressure on and even pulling wing to wing briefly just before the caution. On the restart, Mathew pulled away Reidel in tow. Tony Deieso was third. Bob Reichert fourth. Romy Baus fifth.

"It's been a long time since we've been here and it sure feels great," said Olson, noting his wife, Tammy and daughters, Jennifer and Kimberly were on hand. "I could hear (second place) Dean Sadowski's Mopar engine because it has a distinct sound, but the Chevy was up to the challenge."

Mitchell Zanker took the initial IMCA modified main lead, with Lee Tibbitts squeezing into top spot after the first official lap. Cautions on laps two and three foiled Olson's charge to the front from last row in the starting field.

On the second restart, Olson put his Midwest Motorcoach/Onan Enterprises Monte Carlo into the lead using the inside line in turn two. Sadowski, who started seventh, closed to less than a car length at the checkered. Dave Holden came from sixth to third. Pointleader B.G. Wood moved from tenth to fourth. Larry Marshall 11th to fifth as the main featured highly competitive passing throughout.

"I told Eric (Rosemann) I was going to finish in front of him and wave when I went by, and that's what I did," said P. Schultz of his winning move in the Suzuki powered Sexton Signs/Ross Trucking Enemy Race Cars Chassis, overtaking early race leader Rosemann on a lap four restart. "I saw him go a little too hard into the corner and that gave me enough room to get by."

Dr. Ken Johnson was second.

Roy Morrison came from last to third. Rosemann recovered for fourth. Lisa Heywood came from 10th to fifth.

The sprint "B" main saw Barry Kruegar uninjured in a lap two flip. In a separate lap four accident, Jimmy Uttech Jr., collided with another wheel and flipping end over end. Moser, who was conscious was transported to an area hospital for a checkup.

Todd Lehr was uninjured in a first sprint heat flip, but was out for the night.

A total of 83 open wheel cars including 34 sprints were on hand. Next weekend at Wilmot Speedway features Miller Genuine Draft presents the Annual Kenosha County Fair Championships with sprints and mini-sprints in action on Saturday, Aug. 17. Racetime is 7 p.m.

The weekly "Meet the Driver" program from 5 until 6 p.m. on Aug. 17 will feature Kurt Davis with his winged sprint car which he will be allowing youngsters to put their autograph on the actual race car.

On Sunday, Aug. 18 will be the traditional demolition derby with over 100 total cars expected to be featured in two sessions at 2 and 6 p.m. There is no extra grandstand admission for fair motorsports events.

Lancers standouts return, freshmen to lead tennis

The future looks promising for the College of Lake County women's tennis team. The Lancers fared well in summer tournaments and may have their top player back from last year's national qualifying team.

Julia Sapozhnikova won 35 of 36 matches last fall as the Bellarousian dominated the junior college circuit. Injuries hampered her off-season work, to just the past few weeks. She earned a fourth-round spot in a Milwaukee tournament.

"She is our most dependable player. She did it all on her own. Last year she would get up at 5:30 a.m. run three or four miles and come and work out with us. And she would want to go longer," Richard Watson Sr., the coach who guided the Lancers to a Skyway Conference title last year, said.

Nicole Kirkman and Karen Leckman are back and improved singles players as practice opened this week, he said.

"If we get Julia back, we could have a formidable team," he said.

Grayslake's Sarah Lesinski is a freshman who was all-Northwest Suburban Conference as the Rams won three straight titles. She won a Waukegan open singles title and teamed up with Lyza Lopez for a doubles title.

"She volleys pretty well and played very well in Waukegan," Watson said.

Jenny Mayer, of Antioch is another newcomer. Ericka Offerdahl, a standout at Warren High, will be on the CLC roster after attending University of Illinois at Chicago for one year.

Kim Villiger, Grant's No. 1 singles player and Round Lake grad Kristin Schuester are also on the squad.

Watson turns the day-to-day coaching over to his son, Richard this year. The younger Watson will an advantage his Dad did not have - new courts at CLC. The Lancers had been using Warren Township Center courts.

Public boating course begins in September

Boat owners, prospective boat owners, family friends, crews and others that want to improve their boating skills are encouraged to participate in the tuition-free boating course to be offered this fall by the Waukegan Power Squadron.

The course will be offered at two locations: Zion Benton High School and Libertyville High School. A nominal charge applies to student workbooks, charts and other materials.

The instruction given in the nine-session public Boating Course is the best way to learn the basics of safe boating.

This course is offered as a public service to adults and teenagers in over 500 local areas nationwide. Many insurance companies offer a discount to boat owners who have successfully completed the course.

Instructors are knowledgeable volunteer members of the United States Power Squadrons who have taken advanced Squadron courses.

three million students how to make their boating safer and more enjoyable. Successful completion of the course qualifies students to receive the State of Illinois Boating Certificate.

Some of the subjects to be covered include: Boat handling, elementary seamanship, Great Lakes and inland boating, weather, sailing fundamentals, charts and aids to navigation, piloting, basic navigation and rules, sailing fundamentals, marine radiotelephone and trailer boating.

The nine-week course will be offered this Fall in two locations: Zion Benton High School sponsored by College of Lake County. The first class will begin at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 12.

Experience a close encounter of the dirt kind at museum

Children and adults alike can experience a "close encounter of the dirt kind" at "Archaeology: A Key to the Past," a new exhibit at the Lake County Forest Preserves' Lake County Museum.

Opening Monday, Aug. 19, this hands-on exhibit celebrates all aspects of archaeology and features tools of the trade, recoveries from local excavations, explanations of current laws, and what it takes to be an archaeologist today.

Test your sense of touch when you place your hand in a concealed compartment and guess what's inside. Post your archaeological discovery along with the experiences of fellow explorers by writing or drawing on a card provided in a special area of the exhibit. Trowels used in the field have been loaned to the museum and filled with different answers to the question:

"If this trowel could speak, what would it say?" The exhibit also showcases how professionals and amateurs analyze, sort, excavate, and publish all the evidence gathered so the story of the human past can be recreated.

Dig deeper into this fascinating subject with two exhibit-related programs. Find out how archaeologists recover and study the remains of past civilizations at "Archaeology Activity Day" on Sunday, Sept. 15, from 1 to 4 p.m. This interactive, station-to-station tour of a day in the life of an archaeologist illustrates how archaeologists piece together the human story. The program is open to all ages. The cost is $3.50 per person. Children 3 and under enter free. Reservations are required.

On Sunday, Oct. 20, from 2 to 4 p.m., join local scientists as they spin tales and show slides from near and far at "Ask an Archaeologist." Bring objects you discovered on your own excavation, and let these explorers answer your questions at this informal gathering. The program is open to adults only. The cost is $3.50 per person. Reservations are required.

"Archaeology: A Key to the Past" exhibit runs through Jan. 27, 1997, and commemorates Illinois Archaeology Awareness Week. The Lake County Museum is located on Rte. 176, just west of Fairfield Road. For more information about this exhibit and its related programs, call Museum Educator Regina Reynolds, at 526-7878.

Dyeing lessons

Bring the whole family and beat the August heat every Sunday at the Lake County Forest Preserves' Lake County Museum.

As part of an ongoing educational series at the Museum, Family Day Sundays are offered each Sunday in August from 1 to 4:30 p.m. with hands-on, family-oriented activities taking place throughout the afternoon inside the Museum's air-conditioned galleries.

On Sunday, Aug. 18, learn how settlers turned various Lake County plants into colorful dyes for wool at Dyes of Early Settlers. Museum volunteer Jill Martin will be on hand to show how dyes were created and then assist participants in dyeing their own swatch to take home.

The Museum is open from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Sunday and 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Admission is free every Monday.

The Lake County Museum is located in Lakewood Forest Preserve on Rte. 176, just west of Fairfield Road near Wauconda. Make Family Day Sundays, a new family tradition.

For more information call 526-7878.

Learn to juggle

Kids age 10 and older can learn how to juggle, or can improve their skills, this fall at Stevenson High School.

"Be a Juggler" will meet from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 17 and Wednesday, Sept. 25, in the SHS Wood Commons. The instructor will provide teaching materials; props will be available for sale at the first class.

The cost is $13, but just $10 for those registering early. The class is part of the SHS Patriot Recreation Education Program's fall community education curriculum.

For more information, call 634-4000, ext. 300.

County logo goes back to the drawing board

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

Editor in Chief

Round Two has begun.

The Lake County Board has sent the "new" county logo back to the drawing board with hopes to have an improved logo design ready to unveil to the public at the September meeting.

The board met in a committee of the whole to discuss the board's overall impression of the logo design and solicit input for the new design.

"I think a logo is needed or some sort of mark is needed to identify all Lake County facilities," said Chairman Bob Depke. "I thought this was something the board agreed on when it first started with a 19-3 vote (Dec. 12, 1995). Then we ran into the buzz saw."

Because of the amount of controversy surrounding the proposed logo presented to the board last month, Depke has requested the designer start over with a clean slate.

"What we are trying to address with the new logo is to create a clear identification for the numerous departments and services within Lake County," said Lake County Administrator Ike Magalis. "We need a comprehensive identification and signage program."

A unified design will eliminate the need for each department to have an individual logo. Currently, most of the 35 departments within the county such as the health department, sheriff's office and division of transportation have their own logo and accompanying office stationery.

"Our goal is to have one logo and use the same letter head, ect, for all departments," said Magalis. "We want to be uniform and in the end it will save us a great deal of money."

The new logo will appear on 448 county vehicles and 155 facilities and would be phased in to use as new vehicles were purchased and new signage needed.

Members of the committee appointed by Chairman Depke to work with the design company expressed their concern with the amount of time already spent on the project and urged the board to provide specific direction so the new logo can be designed and approved quickly.

"We didn't vote for the funding," said County Clerk Willard Helander, a member of the committee, noting it seems to be an issue amongst county board members. "The time we have spent researching the materials currently in use and working with the design firm is very frustrating. You elected officials are not holding your end of the bargain. We (the committee) members have a lot of other things to attend to beside this project."

In addition to Helander, other members on the committee include: Depke, County Board Member Bob Buhai (D- Highland Park), Magalis, Marty Buehler, division of transportation director; Dale Galassie, health department director; Barry Hokanson, director of planning and zoning; Anne O'Connell, public information officer; and Martin Galantha, superintendent of public works. Zoning overhaul approval may be too late

Western Lake County fears build-out

BILL SCHROEDER

Publisher

Efforts to overhaul county building and zoning regulations covering unincorporated areas may be coming too late to stem a development tide threatening to engulf northwest Lake County.

That's the opinion of advocates of controlled growth and environment protection who support plans to implement a new unified ordinance covering zoning and building requirements.

Against a backdrop of words and pictures depicting spring flooding damage in Grant Township, members of the County Building and Zoning committee approved the hiring of an outside consultant to revamp the 700 page ordinance.

Barry Hokanson, director of planning and zoning for Lake County, said the process will take approximately six months. Full board approval was granted Tuesday to set the overhaul in motion.

Without some kind of brake on growth and development, Grant Township will be "built out in two years," Suzanne Harris of Long Lake told members of the committee. Harris is co-chair of the Impact Coalition which displayed a video taken during May rains causing widespread flooding.

The video offered graphic evidence of how an uncompleted storm drainage project conducted by the Lake County Dept. of Transportation contributed to massive pollution of Long Lake.

County Board Rep. Larry Leafblad (R-Highland Lake) called the project at Wilson and Rollins Rd. the "worst" he's seen. "And that's one of our county projects." The area containing two large detention basins has since been sodded and planted.

Vice-Chairman Angelo Kyle of Waukegan directed that the Impact Coalition video be put on the agenda for a follow-up meeting. Kyle was serving in the absence of Chairman Dick Raftis (R-Wildwood).

Harris pointed out that the county's controversial "S" suburban zoning is in conflict with the concept of preserving open space and a rural lifestyle. She also urged that the county adopted standards recommended by the Stormwater Management Commission for more moderate stormwater release rates.

Harris questioned the policy of leaving the rates optional for builders. "If the committee doesn't act," Harris stated, "flooding will be inevitable."

Preserving a rural character and controlling property taxes, two precepts of the 1994 County Board Framework Plan, have been a myth the way zoning and building is being administered, Harris stated.

The County Board approved awarding a contract to James Duncan & Associates of Austin, Texas for $99,460 for service to develop a Unified Development Ordinance at Tuesday's meeting.

Marine patrolman put Chain safety first

Veteran officers say Chain boaters now more safety conscious

Grant it, the days can be sunny and warm and there can be plenty of attractive sunbathers around but, to deputies Harris Kinsler and Tom Kettering, the job of Lake County Marine Unit patrolman isn't always so glamorous.

"It's a fun job. I wouldn't be here that long if I didn't like it," explains Kinsler, 16-year water deputy veteran. However, he

Forest Preserve to form advisory committee seeking citizen input

Citing the Lake County Forest Preserve District's active tradition of seeking and incorporating public input, Forest Preserve President Jim LaBelle (R-Zion) has decided to form the Lake County Forest Preserve Partnership Council.

The Council will be formed on the heels of disbanding the Wildlife Advisory Council, the only citizen's council to be actively involved in forest preserve procedures.

"In reviewing the work of the Wildlife Advisory Committee, I have determined that they have successfully completed their charge of providing advice concerning Forest Preserve deer management policy and procedures. Therefore, I am replacing the Wildlife Advisory Committee with a new group that can provide a broader base of input on a wider variety of Forest Preserve issues," said LaBelle. "The Wildlife Advisory Committee are to be commended for a job well done."

LaBelle says the Forest Preserve Board of Commissioners and staff firmly believe that "having a decision-making process that encourages community ideals and support and responsibly addresses constituent questions and concerns is key to successfully serving the public with environmental and fiscal responsibility."

Wildlife Advisory Committee Member Davida Terry of Riverwoods addressed the forest preserve commissioners to express her dismay over the committee being disbanded.

"Our voice is needed. There are 3,400 people in my group. 'The Voice for Wildlife,' our views are important," Terry told the group. "We need to have all people's points of view represented. I don't want to be adverse or controversial . . . please keep open the lines of communication with the public."

President LaBelle said procedures for nominating citizens to serve on the Forest Preserve Partnership Council would be forthcoming to commissioners in the next several weeks. The Forest Preserve Board may begin selecting citizens for the new council at their September meeting.

The Wildlife Advisory Council was formed in 1989 primarily to assist with the deer management program following public outcry over the removal of deer from forest preserve lands.

Members of the committee included: Terry, Craig Hendee, Steve Packard and county board members Ed Fojtik, Larry Leafblad and Richard Raftis.

In addition to the county employees working on the committee, business personnel from Abbott, Baxter, Trustmark and Kemper also have served on the committee.

"Every organization has an investment in their image," said O'Connell. "If the impressions made appear weak or disorganized that is what the public believes."

Several county board members offered their input in what they would like to see in the revised logo. Angelo Kyle (D-North Chicago) said the logo should "recognize Lake County's most favorable resource, its people."

Pamela Newton (R-Vernon Hills) said the logo needs to show pride and evoke emotion for the people of Lake County. "We can be progressive and futuristic and still make the logo meaningful to the people of Lake County."

Board reconsiders sidewalk

MUNDELEIN—Concerns about liability and traffic tie-ups led Mundelein village board members to hold off on a decision about sidewalk access for the new Metra station. Plans for a walkway from Hawley St. leading two blocks south sounded good until liability information from Metra brought second thoughts. "They want indemnification for anything and everything that might occur, even their negligence, their own wrongfulness," explained village attorney Charles Marino.

Although the traffic pattern at the station includes a "kiss and ride" lane, there is the likelihood that commuters would opt to be dropped off at Hawley St. for the convenience of drivers, creating slowdowns on an already busy thoroughfare.

On the recommendation of Mayor Marilyn Sindles, the board voted to table the matter until a downtown study can be completed. — by SUZIE REED

Speed limit angers resident

FOX LAKE—"It doesn't hurt to slow down a little," Fox Lake trustee Jim Pappas said. On Monday officials signed a letter supporting lowering the speed limit on the mile stretch of Rollins Road which has been the site of new developments and a proposed bicycle trail. Lake County Board representative Ed Fojtik took the letter back to the Marty Buehler, county engineer for the division of transportation. One resident, Jim Lohenry Walton is objecting to the lower speed limit. After talking with his personal attorney, Walton said he will be distributing a petition against the speed limit change. "I just think it's a bad idea," he said ironically. "It's gonna cause more problems." — by TINA L. SWIECH

Thomas retires as road boss

GURNEE—Frank Thomas, the Warren Township highway commissioner for the last 20 years, is retiring. Thomas' retirement became official Monday when township trustees officially accepted his letter explaining his intentions. "Frank did a good job," Robert Depke, Warren Township supervisor, said. Gerald Rudd, a highway department employee of about 10 years, was named deputy highway commissioner and given the authority of running the department on a day-to-day basis. The search for a replacement for Thomas is expected to last until December. — by STEVE PETERSON

Police investigate car arsons

LAKE ZURICH—Village police are conducting an investigation into a series of arsons and attempted arsons on cars parked in driveways of the same subdivision.

The Old Mill Grove area, located north of Route 22, was subject to four reports of arson or attempted arsons between Aug. 7 - 9.

One car, a 1986 Pontiac 6000, was torched on two consecutive days. The front end of the car was burned early morning Aug. 7, then the engine compartment was found in flames the next morning. Two other attempts were unsuccessful.

The police do not think the acts have been committed by a professional arsonist. "They just seem like random spur of the moment type acts," said Detective Kevin Finlon. — by SPENCER SCHEIN

Edgar tops list for Metra start

ANTIOCH—Governor Jim Edgar will likely be one of the top dignitaries at the grand opening ceremony in Antioch of the new Metra "North Central Service" on Sunday. Sources told Lakeland Newspapers that the state's top dog has confirmed his attendance at the ceremony Aug. 18. The village is planning for a festive ceremony for whomever shows up. President Clinton has been invited as well as Republican presidential hopeful Bob Dole. Planners were told to have an area for a possible helicopter landing—just in case.

Other confirmed dignitaries expected to attend include State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis, State Rep. Robert Churchill, Libertyville Mayor Jo Ann Eckmann, and several Metra officials.

Commuter service will actually begin the following day on Aug. 19. Three morning trains will depart

Antioch and make stops in Lake Villa, Round Lake Beach, Libertyville, Mundelein, Vernon Hills, Prairie View and Buffalo Grove en route to downtown Chicago. A transfer stop to O'Hare Airport will also be available. — by KEVIN HANRAHAN

Hawthorn delays appeal

VERNON HILLS—The Hawthorn Board of Education did not decide whether to appeal a court ruling that allows the southern portion of Oaks subdivision to de-annex from Vernon Hills-based Hawthorn Dist. 73 and annex into Libertyville Elementary School Dist. 70. The state appellate court upheld a ruling that allows the de-annexation.

"We have not come to any decision yet," said Hawthorn Board President Mary Anne Hannigan. Dist. 73 stands to lose about $150,000 annually in tax revenue as a result of the current decision. School officials have argued that the decision treads on murky waters in allowing district boundaries to change at the request of residents. The board has until Sept. 20 to file before the Illinois Supreme Court. — by KEVIN HANRAHAN

Boy dies from crash injuries

LAKE VILLA—An 8-year-old boy in unincorporated Lake Villa died from injuries sustained after he was struck by a car while attempting to cross Engle Drive. Jason Greer was about 200 feet east of Lawrence Drive Aug. 8 at 3:10 p.m. when he was struck by a 1998 Mercury Marquis driven by a 65-year-old Lindenhurst man. Greer was taken by a Flight-For-Life Helicopter to Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge. He died at 9 a.m. on Aug. 9.

The driver is not being identified because there is no indication he did anything wrong, according to Cpl. Tom Braze of Lake County Sheriff's Department. — by ALEC JUNG

Accident kills two

GRAYSLAKE—A fatal crash at the intersection of Route 137 and Casey Road Aug. 12, at 11:16 a.m. resulted in the death of Charles Ericksen, 77, and his wife, Marion, 65, of McHenry and sent their 7-year-old grandson, Georgie Tyson, to Lutheran General Hospital via the Flight for Life helicopter.

The Ericksen's 1992 Chevrolet Corsica was struck by a 24 foot 1996 Ryder rental truck traveling north on Rte. 137.

From preliminary reports it appeared the Ericksen's vehicle was proceeding through the intersection from Harris Road to Casey Road when they were struck on the right passenger side of the vehicle. The truck rolled over following the impact but the driver Harry Critz 44, of Gurnee and his 18-year-old passenger Erik Becker of Ingleside were uninjured. Critz was released with no charges against him.

Boat accident investigation ends soon: officials

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

For more than a month, Lake County Sheriff's have been piecing together facts and physical evidence found at the site of a fatal boat accident which claimed the lives of three people.

Capt. Willie Smith of the Lake County Sheriff's Marine Patrol unit said, "By the end of the week, we should have a release (on the accident)." At that time reports should state the determining factors in the accident, he said.

On July 11 Arnold "Dick" Carlson; Chris Carlson; Robert Heaney, Michael Nank and Renee Roman were riding back from Blarney's Island from the weekly boat races.

At around 10 p.m. Carlson's boat was struck by another vessel on Nippersink Lake.

Dick and Chris Carlson were killed, as well as Roman. Heaney and Nank survived with minor injuries.

Joseph Remke was the operator of the cabin cruiser which reportedly crashed into Carlson's 24-foot Baja. Remke had two passengers on his boat, James Garrelts, and Peter Huinkler. Minor injuries were reported.

A team of sheriff's investigators have been reconstructing the accident on the water, as well as studying various issues inside a pole barn at the Mineola Marina where both boats involved in the accident have been stored.

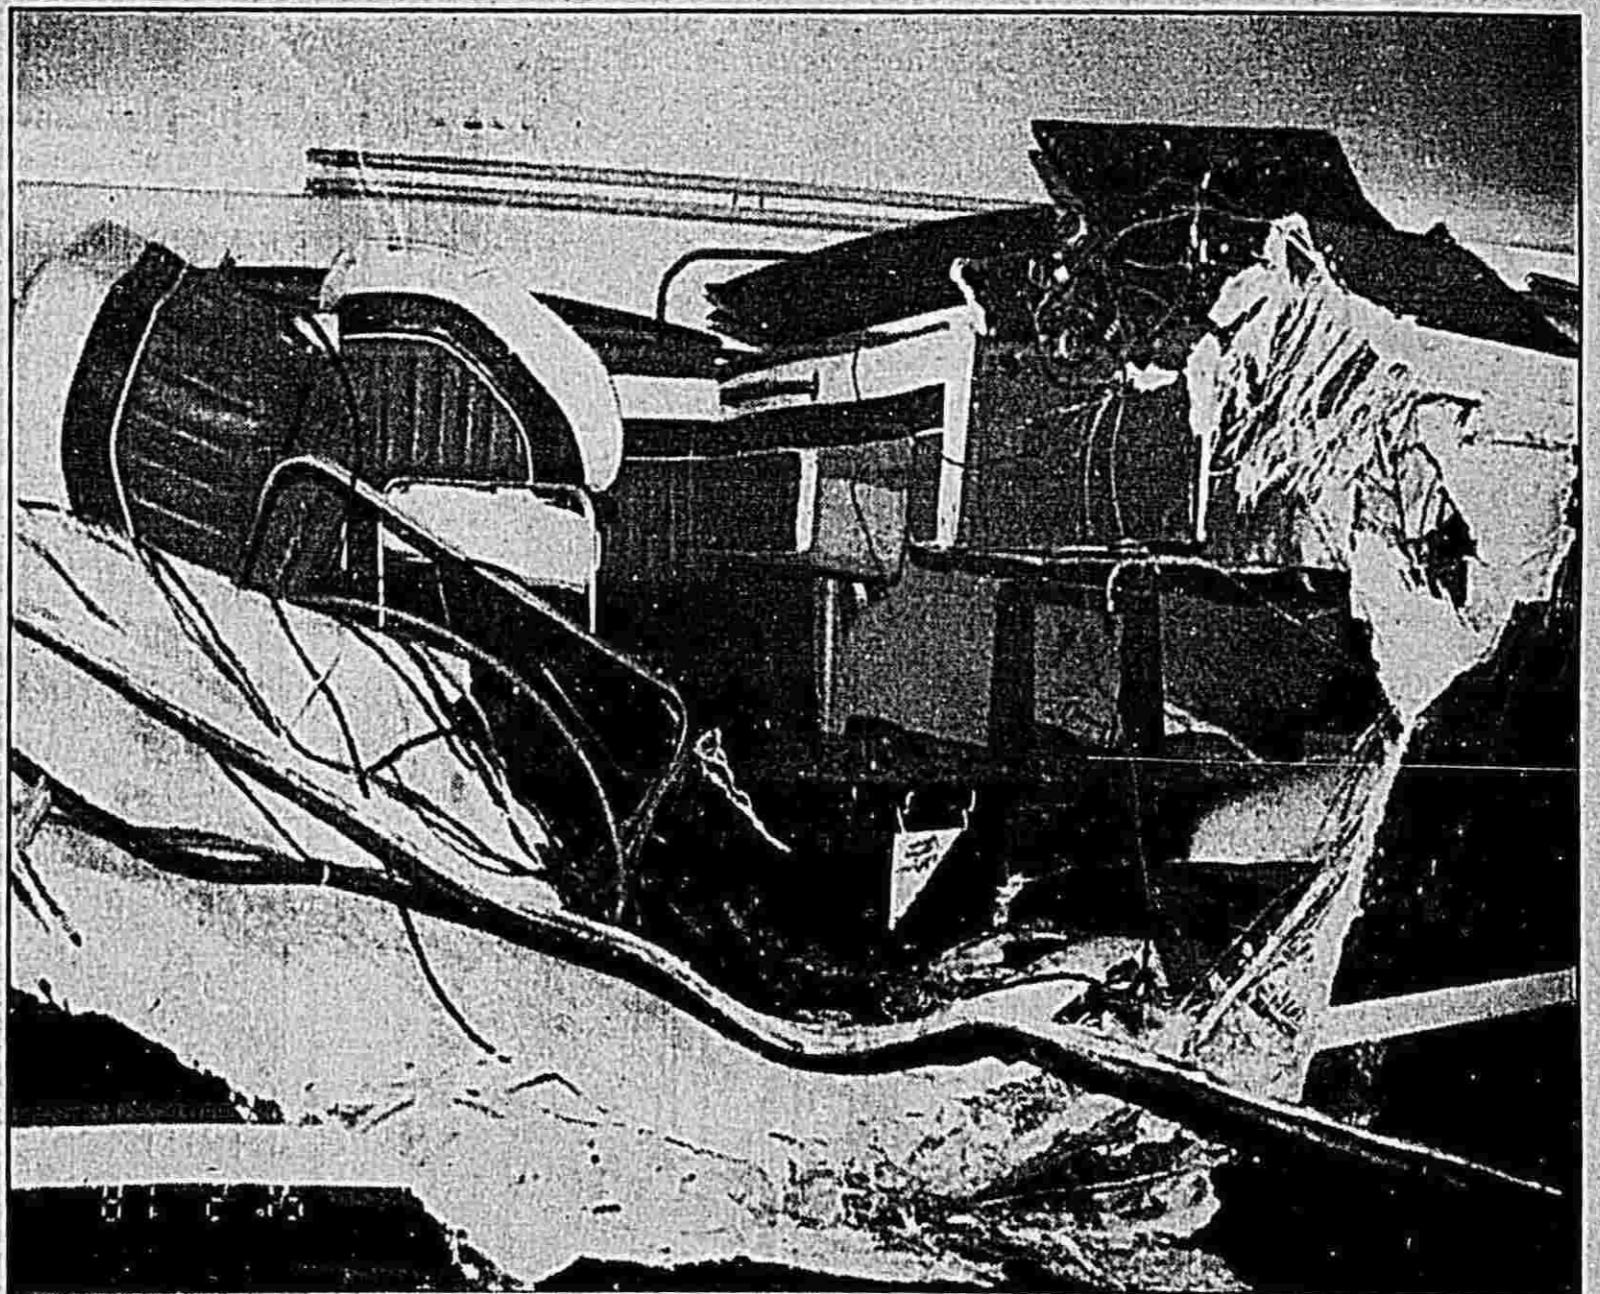

Different angles have been examined, which is to show who was actually at fault for the crash. Inspectors also checked the lighting on both boats, said Capt. Smith.

Pete Jakstas Sr., who has been instrumental in assisting in various aspects of boat accidents, said he has completed with his own personal investigation on the crash, but cannot divulge his findings publicly at this time.

Possible lawsuits and other legal matters could occur from noting an investigation result, he said. "I have to be real careful with this," Jakstas explained.

Jakstas, owner/operator of the Mineola Hotel and Marina explained as a certified boat accident reconstruction investigator, he has been subpoenaed to recount his findings in court many times over the years.

Stressing he's not going to step on the toes of law enforcement officials, Jakstas said, "We're basically out there trying to do the same thing. We're trying to promote safety out there."

Arnold "Dick" Carlson's boat after the crash. The 24-foot Baja was transported to the Mineola Marina near the accident site, along with the other boat operated by Joseph Remke. Salvi's campaign gets Kemp boost

The Bob Dole formula for success, huge tax cuts and teaming with charismatic Jack Kemp, ought to play well in Illinois, always a pivotal state in national politics with a reputation for swing voting.

Democratic leaders and liberals will be scurrying to alter game plans to deal with the Republican "new look" for the November presidential sweepstakes. Kemp, regarded as presidential timber for nearly a decade, is sure to energize the GOP campaign and capture votes in his own right.

The stage is set for a down-to-the-wire battle with voters being offered a clear choice between sensible conservatism and putting an end once and for all to Bill Clinton's New Deal, tax-and-spend, wobbly, predictably liberal designs for big and bigger federal government.

Lake County's own Al Salvi, fighting the remnants of New Dealism lingering in Chicago and downstate Democratic enclaves besides doubters in his own party, most certainly will benefit in his uphill battle to give Illinois a balance wheel in the U.S. Senate with the addition of Kemp to the Republican presidential ticket.

Kemp and his solid credentials for tax cutting and an enlightened urban development policy gives the Illinois GOP ticket an added dimension that will complement Salvi's conservative style featuring pro-life, family values, term limitation and emphasis on strong moral character. A veep cloning Dole's stoic, mechanical approach to governing unquestionably would have hurt Salvi.

It's too early to view Dole-Kemp in terms of a GOP "dream team," but it's not too early to say the ingredients with Salvi in third place on the ballot are in place for a Republican victory in Illinois this fall, national politics notwithstanding. Salvi's unique connection with single issue constituent groups will serve his party well.

Conservatives, thoughtful independents and disenchanted "new Democrat" Clintonites can't help but be drawn to the Dole tax plan for a 15 percent personal income tax cut, a capital gains cut, a $500 tax credit for each child up to age 18, repeal of the 1993 tax increase on upper-income beneficiaries of Social Security, expansion of Individual Retirement Accounts and overhaul of the federal tax code with eventual elimination of the Internal Revenue Service.

If it's true that Americans vote their pocketbooks, it's just as true that Americans love to pay less taxes. That conflict of basic convictions means that Clinton's second term express definitely can be derailed.

—Viewpoint— Stormwater agency denied needed tools

BILL SCHROEDER

Publisher

Stalwarts of the lame duck county administration are tripping over their own words these days.

Finance Committee Chairman Bob Buhai (D-Highland Park) lamented the failure of the five-year-old Stormwater Management Commission to make any significant headway in solving Lake County's myriad flooding and drainage problems.

Buhai laid the fault to imposition of the five percent tax cap. "We were looking at a 20 cent rate when the commission was organized," remarked Buhai at a building and zoning committee meeting where west Lake County flooding woes had just been illustrated with a film.

The agency gets a fraction of that, leaving it powerless, Buhai implied.

County Board Rep. Suzi Schmidt (R-Lake Villa) couldn't resist leaving Buhai's observation go untouched, blurting out "the board is at fault," even though she was only an observer at the meeting. Schmidt reminded Buhai that the board majority has followed a policy of underfunding the stormwater agency, while at the same time under-cutting stormwater control ordinances. Schmidt said the county had a stronger ordinance before SMC got into business. Growth advocates altered set-back restrictions and berming requirements, Schmidt stated.

SMC, which has authority to impact commercial and residential growth, only has funding to provide for staff payroll and expenses, and minimal research; funds for flooding corrective measures aren't available.

Schmidt was sitting behind Buhai so she didn't see the daggers after her remarks.

Tobacco deadly habit

Editor:

As a volunteer for the American Lung Association of Illinois, the nation's oldest voluntary health agency, I am writing to commemorate the one-year anniversary of the most aggressive and courageous public policy proposal ever put forward to deal with the epidemic of tobacco use.

On August 10, 1995, Dr. David Kessler, chief of the federal Food and Drug Administration, unveiled a plan to limit youth access to cigarettes and smokeless tobacco and markedly reduce the appeal of these cancer causing products to America's youth. Now, we eagerly await FDA's next step.

Almost every American has been personally affected by the loss of a family member, friend, co-worker or neighbor to tobacco-related illnesses. In fact, every year, such illnesses claim nearly 420,000 lives in this country. As a Lung Association volunteer, I am especially aware of the need for government leadership in deterring young people from falling into tobacco's deadly trap.

The average age when a person in Illinois first experiments with a cigarette is just 12 years old. Nearly 87 percent of all new smokers in Illinois begin before they turn 19 years old. Public policy must address the provocative marketing strategies the powerful tobacco industry uses to reach and influence these vulnerable children. Studies reveal that tobacco advertisements are three times more effective on children as compared to adults. The FDA proposal seeks to address this issue.

Parents, grandparents, health care providers, teachers and kids everywhere support the FDA plan to protect our children from the single deadliest, most preventable cause of death in See LETTER page B5

Salvi, Crane to concentrate on campaign in Illinois

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

Congressman Phil Crane

Crane

Crane's fall schedule includes speaking engagements on behalf of Republican Congressional candidates in districts "where I can make a difference."

Al Salvi's late summer plans include a motorhome tour downstate with wife Kathy and the Salvi brood, sort of a "working vacation" drumming up support for his U.S. Senate candidacy. Don't be surprised if Salvi makes a last minute appearance at the Republican Convention in San Diego, however, insiders say a call for Washington power leaders requested Salvi check-in.

When last Party Lines checked, the Wauconda Republican had cut opponent Dick Durbin's lead to single digits. Salvi aides say their candidate's campaign is unfolding on schedule with Republican Day at the Illinois State Fair Saturday, Aug. 17, being high point.

Some media types have been attempting to "spin" the Salvi motorcade as a "skip" of the San Diego convention. Since he wasn't selected a delegate, Al decided his place is in Illinois, meeting all

Churchill

Villa) is staying with the 50s nostalgia format for his annual fundraising event Friday, Sept. 20, at Midlane Country Club. Some of the adventuresome always show up in 50's garb. Bob will probably stick to his trademark blue blazer.

No show—U.S. Sen. Carol Moseley-Braun, expected to participate in the recent forum on managed health care sponsored by BlueCross BlueShield of Illinois at Long Grove, failed to show up. Attending the program at Royal Melbourne Country Club were Congressman Phil Crane, Harris Fawell and Bill Lipinski. Moseley-Braun has a no-show reputation for Lake County events.

All choked up—Fox Lake trustee Darwin Follman chuckled uncontrollably at the village board meeting last week, when it came time for him to announce tallies on the monthly funds collected. The finance and insurance committee head began stating bills which went up from more than $41,000 for local sewer and water funds, to 46 cents for money made on the new commuter parking lot on Rollins Road.

"I'm sorry, but that choked me up!" said Follman, as he was near tears with laughter.

Racing against time—Lake Zurich Trustee John G. Tolomei knew he would win one division in the inaugural Lake Zurich Triathlon held Aug. 10.

Tolomei

"I knew I had a lock on one category, that was best time for any trustee," he said.

Tolomei competed in his first triathlon because it was held in Lake Zurich, he said. "I always wanted to swim across the lake, so I thought that this was a good opportunity," Tolomei said.

The course included a .6 mile swim across Lake Zurich, an 18-mile bike ride through the village and Ela Township, and a 10 K run around the same trail.

Tolomei finished the triathlon in 2:32:50, 56-minutes behind the top finisher from McHenry.

Simply said—Included in the omnibus agenda, the revised sign ordinance for the Village of Mundelein was expected to sail through the approval process. A "no" vote, however, came from Trustee Bruce Campbell, who objected to the section that allowed 5 percent of a sign to contain other information, such as a telephone number, product, or service.

"Signs in front of a business are to identify the business, not to advertise individual items," he stated.

Campbell is the proprietor of Signs Now in Mundelein. Evidently he doesn't charge by the letter.

On the move—County Board Chairman Bob Depke made no bones where he was headed after the County Board meeting, Tuesday. "I need to get to San Diego where there is unity," said Depke. "And, everyone loves one another and embraces their differences." Depke's wife, George Ann is one of Lake County's delegates to the convention. "I've had enough of this bull," Depke concluded with a chuckle.

Sex list dangerous

Editor:

As of June 1, Illinois citizens have the right to obtain a list of the names and addresses of convicted child sex offenders who reside in their communities.

Although this is a positive step toward helping parents protect their children, public availability of these lists, which have been found to be flawed, can lead to misidentification of sex offenders and vigilantism.

Therefore, the members of the Sexual Abuse Intervention Network of Lake County (SAIN) urge the public and the media to exercise caution and restraint in using this information. We also urge law enforcement agencies to do their best to verify and update their lists of offenders.

Tolls to pay bills

Editor:

The Environmental Law and Policy Center has begun a campaign to take the tolls out of the tollway system. This naively assumes that the tollway can pay off its debt from some other source and that roads in some way maintain themselves.

Unfortunately the reality is that tolls pay for both debt and maintenance of the tollway system. If tolls are eliminated, will the burden of maintenance fall upon the financially strapped Illinois Dept. of Transportation who are having a difficult time maintaining their own system, much less adding almost 300 miles of superhighway to its maintenance program? Should the tollway default on its debt payments like the Chicago Skyway?

With congestion increasing on our highways, does anyone seriously think that we are better able to meet the transportation challenges in our region with a weakened or defunct tollway system? For those who wish to object to the operations of the Illinois Tollway system, let them take their immediate "Tax Credit" and not use the Tollways. For those who wish to use the system, let them pay their fair share. Financing the operation and maintenance of transportation systems based on user fees (tolls) is a necessary and important step in allocating governmental costs to those who use these services.

Hundreds of volunteers pitch in for United Way Day of Caring

AMANDA MILLER
Staff Reporter

The United Way of Lake County is expecting over 900 volunteers for their second annual Day of Caring, Aug. 23.

Day of Caring is a program created by United Way to impact Lake County in a positive respect. Volunteers from businesses and organizations will complete day-long service projects at non-profit sites all over Lake County.

"Our number one reason for the Day of Caring is to connect donors throughout the area with services through their contributions," said Jerry Mortvedt, Director of Marketing and Communications of United Way of Lake County.

United Way of Lake County is an independent organization and is completely non-profit. Their main purpose is to raise money to help other non-profit organizations in the Lake County area.

The 1996 annual fundraising campaign for United Way of Lake County will kick-off with the Day of Caring. This annual fundraising helps support 48 different health and human service organizations around the Lake County area. The United Way does not receive any proceeds from these fund raisers, they donate the funds to the non-profit organizations.

The United Way wants the public to know the purpose of their organization.

"It is so important for us (United Way) to get the word out on what the United Way actually does and what we are all about," stated Mortvedt.

Day of Caring will begin with a breakfast at the Lake County Fairgrounds at 7:30 a.m., Aug. 23. This breakfast is set to recognize Pacesetter companies, companies that have completed their campaign prior to Aug. 23. The announcement of the 1996 Campaign Goal will be announced and then the volunteer teams will depart for 59 different nonprofit Day Of Caring project sites.

Two types of service will take place during the day-long event. Volunteers will participate in direct service which is hands on help.

These volunteers will be directly interacting with people. The other kind of service is indirect in which volunteers will perform projects that are geared towards the entire community such as painting and landscaping.

United Way of Lake County is very hopeful for the event's success. Last year, the Day of Caring brought a large amount of benefit.

"At last year's Day of Caring, the labor contributed by the volunteers was estimated at $100,000," said Douglas E. Weber, president of United Way of Lake County.

Local companies and organizations are providing both volunteer teams and donations. Among the contributors are: Abbott Laboratories, Baxter Healthcare Cooperation, Caremark International, City of North Chicago, Hollister, Inc., IBM, Kemper Insurance Companies, Komatsu America International Company, Lake County Fair Association, Manpower, Moore, Motorola, Inc., The News-Sun, Trustmark

Insurance Company and Zurich Kemper Life.

Companies that have volunteer teams participating are: Abbott Laboratories, Baxter Healthcare Corporation, Big Brother/Big Sisters of Lake County, Caremark International, City of North Chicago, ComEd, Dean Witter, Discover & Co., First Midwest Bank, N.A., Harris Bank Libertyville, ITW Paslode Corp., JCPenney Outlet, Kemper Insurance Companies, Lake County Center for Independent Living, Manpower, Hometown bands part II in a three part-series

- What they're all about
- The inside scoop on neighborhood garage bands

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

Ahhhhhh, summertime.

Sunbathing, barbecuing, riding with the top down, and oh, yeah—hearing the pounding rhythm of rockin' tunes reverberating from across the neighbor's yard or the local downtown hangout.

Lake Zurich-based Bacon Fat is one of those bands known for jammin' out hot rock n' roll. It's almost good enough to sop up with a big proverbial buttermilk biscuit. The band offers some delicious servings of "very filling funk with an edge."

What's in a name? Bacon Fat, say band members, is derived from a 1954 single, black blues singer Andre Williams performed. The tune was also done by artist Frank Zappa in 1972.

Influenced by the classical greats of rock n' roll, including Black Sabbath to the Eagles, Bacon Fat cooks up some original tunes combining the best of all four members.

In their mid to late 20s, lead singer Joe Fowler, bassist Jeff Krysh, Dan "The Dentist" Moller on guitar, and drummer Rob Podshadley met through a series of Chicagoland bands.

Fowler is originally from Lake Zurich; Podshadley is a Rolling Meadows resident; and Moller and Krysh are both from the Palatine area.

Round 'em up, cowboy, for a real shootin' good time

ELIZABETH EAKEN

Staff Reporters

Days of cowboys and Indians aren't long forgotten by the Single Action Shooting Society (SASS). The club is all about preserving and promoting the spirit and traditions of the old west from the prime era for the cowboy, about 25 years in length, from the early 1800s to the civil war.

Carlin Carter and his son James are both members of SASS and even started their business, Colonel Carter's Mercantile in Grayslake, as an outgrowth of the shooting society. At the store, they sell everything a SASS member needs to outfit himself for a shoot, from the spurs to the hat—and even guns by appointment.

Members of SASS dress in western clothing and participate in cowboy action shooting scenarios. Each participant is required to adopt a shooting alias and develops a costume based on his character.

The clothing worn for SASS events is authentic western wear, not what is depicted in western movies, and is almost more fun than the shoots, noted Carter.

The society started in California and is now international although the largest and most organized clubs are in the western U.S. Each participant in a shooting scenario is required to adopt a shooting alias appropriate to a character or profession of the late nineteenth century, a Hollywood western star or a character from fiction.

Carlin Carter goes by the name of "Colonel" Carter since he was awarded the title of colonel from the state of Kentucky. His wife Chris said she took the name of her grandmother, she goes by "Miss Hannah."

"I chose my name because I'm a teacher and would have been a 'miss' back then," she said. Her grandmother also spent a great deal of time out west when she was young and even worked for a while on an Indian reservation, giving her a connection to the west.

The shoots are usually held at shooting clubs. According to Carter the big thing now is equestrian shooting. The participants ride horses while shooting at a target with blanks placed 3-4 feet away, he said. The nearest comparison would be barrel racing.

SASS started 11 years ago, with only around 10-12 men getting together and shooting for fun.

"It's not too well organized in Illinois; it's just starting to grow," Carter explained. "Last year there were about 40 people per shoot at most. This year there are 80-100 per shoot."

The society is trying to organize the state into chapters and nominate a governor to help organize and promote shoots. The founder, according to Carter, is a prominent person and only goes by his alias, Judge Roy Bean. "Bean" recently retired and is now touring the country promoting the society.

At first there were no rules but things have become more organized with a set of rules and procedures in place to ensure safety.

Before every shoot a lesson on gun safety is given and all the rules are reviewed, explained Carter. Participants pay an entry fee used to offset the sponsors' costs of erecting the scenarios. In Illinois and surrounding states shoots are held at an average of three a month in the summer. The largest in the area is held in Rockford and is coming up in September.

The guns used in the scenarios must be single action revolvers, lever action rifles (pistol caliber) double barreled side by side, or pre-1899 pump or lever action shotguns.

When starting out, participants may slowly build their wardrobe but James and Carter estimated it would cost around $400 minimum to completely outfit yourself from the boots to the hat.

At the shoots contests are held for most authentic costumes. Some of the categories include soiled doves (prostitutes) and temperance society for women, town clothing and movie characters for men or women, there are also other categories for men such as cowboy wear.

Carter recalled one competition where two men were dressed so authentically it was a tie so the judges took them into a private room to see if they were wearing authentic undergarments one of them confessed he was wearing boxers and lost the competition.

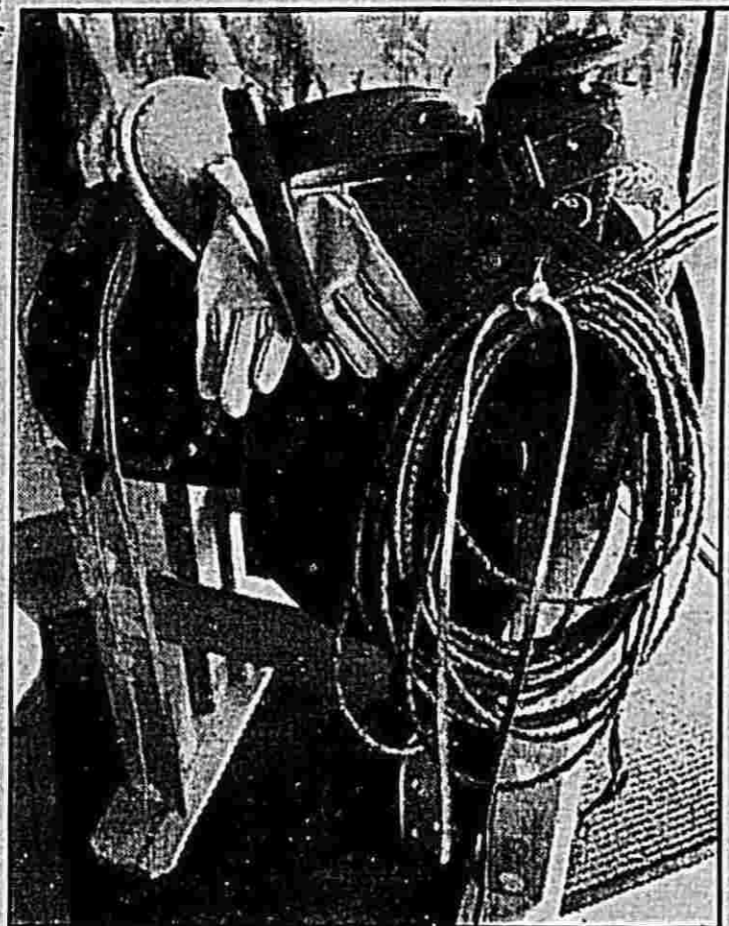

Winners at the shoots sometimes receive donated prizes, and as the sport grows, the prizes are getting better. Carter noted many of the clothing and gun manufacturers are starting to donate prizes for publicity.

The shooting scenarios can get very elaborate; some are even pretty funny. James Carter mentioned one where they had to sit in a bathtub and shoot at a target. Others could be barrels erected to resemble a horse where the participant would sit on the barrels and shoot at a target. Sometimes a building facade will be erected and the target would be in a window.

Carlin Carter noted the elaborate scenarios at one shoot they attended out west went as far as laying tracks to put a mine cart on that rolled as the participant shot at the target.

"We shoot at all types of targets, moving and clay pigeons. About anything that can be done in shooting competition can be done," said Carter.

The shoots have an average of five scenarios but some of the big ones and those out west have ten or more. Groups, or a "posse" as they are called, rotate through the scenarios and each participant is timed individually. At the end all the scores are tallied on a computer and the lowest time wins. The shoots usually last all day long. SASS members travel all over the country to attend shoots.

"It's becoming popular because you have a bunch of men who grew up with westerns. This is a sport that requires skill and they can participate in," explained Carter. He also said it's fun for the older folks because they can participate in this after they have to give up other sports which require more physical activity.

Many families are beginning to participate and the children are learning the proper way to handle a gun.

Carter is trying to organize a SASS chapter through his store and wants to stage one shoot a year. There are several shoots in Illinois and nearby states coming up in September and October including Hell's Hinges in Polo, Ill., Big Rock Roundup in Lexington, Ind. and Last Frontier in Springfield, Ill.

For information on SASS and the upcoming shoots call the Carters at (847) 548-9315 or visit their store at 141 Center Street in downtown Grayslake.

Deputy Tom Kettering hands out coupons for free McDonald ice cream sundaes to kids on the Chain O' Lakes who are wearing their life preservers.—Photo by Tina L. Swiech sparked from a leaky fuel line. One man suffered severe third degree burns, he said.

Safety

Other stories the officers told were more light-hearted like the time the man decided to walk from Blarney's Island to shore. While the water is quite shallow, around 3-feet, no one advised the man that he would sink in the thick floor of mud, losing his shoes in the process. Finally a sheriff's boat pulled him out and transported him to shore.

Another involved an incident where some boaters decided to try their own homemade form of parasailing, and got tangled up in the gear, related Kettering.

This day, police pointed to a boat recently stolen from a marina, and run aground by the assailants. It was now back in the hands of the owner who, later thanked Kettering in assisting to retrieve the vessel.

When an incident takes place, the Lake County Marine Patrol is always the first on the scene. While area fire departments including Fox Lake and Antioch have rescue boats available, it takes them a little more time to get the crafts to the water, and then to the crash site.

Lake County Sheriff boats carry a full first aid kit, as well as a back board for transporting severely injured patients.

This is a part time job for both men. During the week, they have full time jobs. Kinsler is a police officer and Kettering works for the IBM corporation.

While partners this particular day, the officers switch off, covering various 6 to 8-hour shifts and districts dividing the Chain O' Lakes. Different sheriff boats are also used for the different areas the deputies cover.

Besides equipment, including radios and a depth finder, officers know they have to gear up with the proper equipment. Bottles of water, sunblock and required life vests are always near at hand.

Most of the stops made by Kinsler and Kettering this warm and sunny Saturday, were checks made for Fox Waterway Agency stickers. Boaters on the Chain and Fox River are required to have current stickers on their vessels at all times.

The officers often yell to other boaters, asking them to slow it down in the no-wake areas. There is 150-foot no wake zone from the shoreline around the Chain.

If boats are loud, officers may require them to pull over to the marine unit to be tested at the sound monitoring station.

There are also the visits from the police which end in a smile and wave from a happy child. When the deputies see kids on a boat who are wearing a life vest, they stop and give them a certificate for a free ice cream sundae from McDonalds, part of a joint program sponsored by the Lake County Sheriffs and the fast food giant.

Throughout their route, calls received by way of onboard police radios are answered. Often times the issues are nuisance in nature, sometimes neighbors pitted against one another, explained Kinsler.

Just then, the deputies received a call from the home base, telling of a complaint of a child riding in an inner tube being pulled by a jet ski.

While this in itself is not illegal, officers explained it is unlawful when there is no one on the back of the craft to watch the party being pulled around. This call was such a case.

When questioned, the father of the children on the jet ski agreed his kids were out doing what was reported, but was not aware it was wrong. Police advised the man of the correct procedures, and he agreed to abide by them. "Now he knows, and now we know [what he's done]," said Kinsler.

After a quick lunch on a picnic table at Korpan's Landing, the officers return to their industrial, aluminum boat.

Drinking is an issue which is always a concern on the water.

Both officers explained while it's legal to drink alcohol while operating a boat, the captain can't exceed the legal amount, causing him or her to be intoxicated.

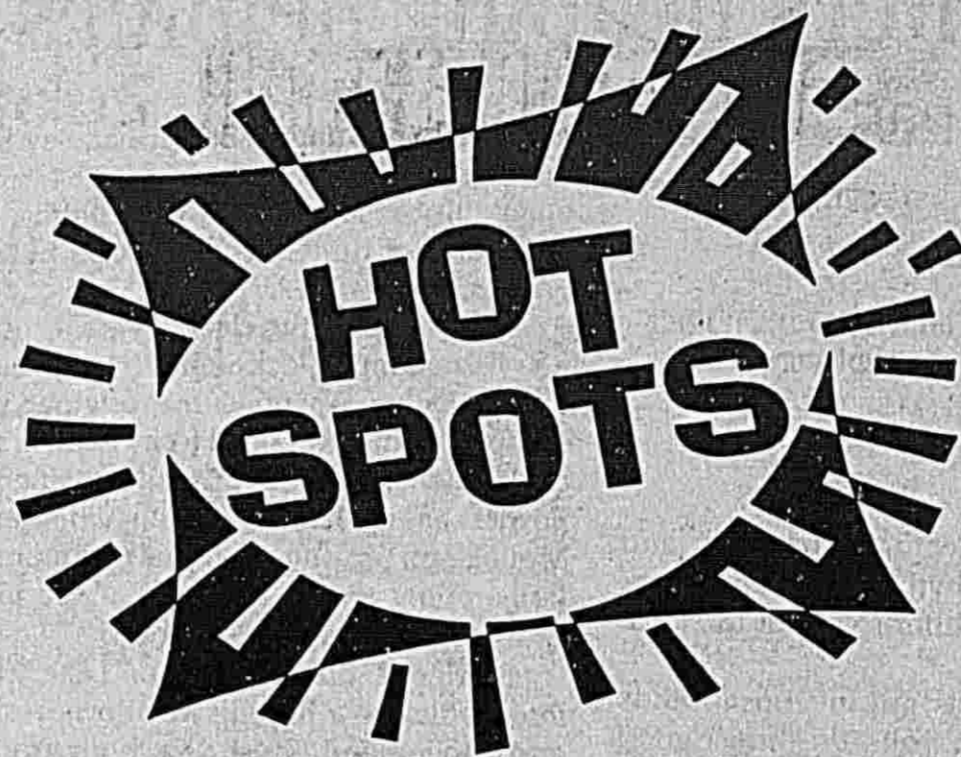

A deadly concoction can be made when the sun mixes with the drinking of alcoholic beverages, the officers noted. To reduce any risk, "Moderation is the key," Kinsler said.

As the temperature rose, the officers noted their happiness over a big change in department wear this year. For years they had to don full dress uniforms including polyester pants. Now they're wearing cotton knit tops and shorts.

Since Kinsler has been a sheriff's deputy for the past 16-years, he's seen a number of changes including boaters who seem to be more careful these days. "It's not as crazy as it's been in the past," he explained.

Nonetheless, Kinsler said he waits for the day when all boaters participate and pass required boating safety courses.

There is also a change in attitudes towards the marine deputies in past years, said Kinsler. "I think the people respect us a lot. I feel boaters like to see us on the water."

It's my birthday—think 'Mink'

For a fleeting moment this year, I thought my husband had really outdone himself for my birthday. I thought he got me a "mink."

Of course, I really would have preferred it to be dead first. Life is busy enough without having to take time to train a wild animal with very sharp little teeth to lie quietly around your neck when you go out to dinner. So you can imagine the mixed emotions I experienced when I found a wild mink on my front porch a few days prior to my birthday.

It was the screaming that gave it away. Now, if my husband had any common sense, he would know that a coat in a box could be hidden away quite nicely for a long period of time, while a live, screaming mink is more difficult to conceal. Still, it's the thought that counts.

Anyway, the screaming sounded as though something was being killed on my front porch, so I ran downstairs and flipped on the outside light to see what was there.

Lo and behold, a little black mink was backed into a corner of the porch, noisily threatening and baring its teeth at me as though I had opened the bathroom door when it was occupied.

"Honey," I called excitedly to my husband. "You shouldn't have!" "What are you talking about?"

he answered.

"You know—the mink."

despite my belief in animal rights, a little part of me was disappointed. I grew up in an era when women of my mother's generation thought of a mink coat as the ultimate proof of their husband's love. For just a moment, when I first spotted that screaming, viscous little bundle of attractive black fur, I felt very loved.

The feeling passed quickly when I imagined those nasty little teeth sunk into my neck. And then I wondered, what exactly do men buy women these days, what with fur coats being politically incorrect and all? After many years of marriage, just how do they show their appreciation for years of love and care, cooking and cleaning, children and sleepless nights?

Divorce, that's how. In the '90s, you're likely to lose your husband to someone code-named "Slutbunny" who he met on the Internet.

So, honey, forget the mink. In fact—forget presents altogether. And now that I think of it, I'm not going to tease you anymore about your lack of computer skills. As far as I'm concerned, it's one of your better qualities!

"The mink?"

"Yes, the mink. I mean, it's cute and everything, but you really shouldn't have. You know I don't believe in wearing furs. Even when they're alive. Especially when they're alive!"

"What are you talking about?" he asked again, totally confused.

I urged him to come and look, and when he saw the mink on the porch, he was just as surprised as I was. He said he had no idea how it got there, but that the animal seemed to think it was cornered, and would probably leave just as soon as we got out of its sight.

So, as it turned out, my husband did not purchase the mink for me. He didn't even catch it in the woods. And I have to admit that,

Fantastic culinary experience coming

It's not uncommon for Chef John Warren of Wadsworth to think "food." That's his business. But when Barbara Donaldson of Zion and Jan Knobbe of Beach Park start thinking about food with him, it just might result in a fantastic culinary experience.

Warren, Donaldson and Knobbe are chairmen for the 16th Annual Chef Cuisine Benefit sponsored by the Victory Hospital Foundation. The "taste of" style experience is scheduled from 3 to 7 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 29 at Midlane Country Club, Wadsworth.

The benefit will feature delightful menu selections from dozens of Lake County's favorite restaurants. Current plans also include a visit by celebrity chef Wolfgang Puck (of Spago's fame) who will share some of his "trade secrets" and sign autographs. There will be cake decorating demonstrations and golf enthusiasts and novices alike will enjoy taking part in the "Chef Cuisine" putting contest.

Proceeds from this event will benefit Lake County's HealthReach Clinic. Tickets are $25 in advance, $30 at the door. For more information, call Laura Stone at 360-3000, ext. 5665.

Movie Pick 'Chain' gets lukewarm reaction

A well known Hollywood story has a new star of a blockbuster film following it up with one mediocre picture after another. Some survive these bad career choices and some become one-pic wonders.

Julia Roberts did this after "Pretty Woman," but despite a series of dumb flicks, she remains one of the top female stars.

We like Keanu Reeves and would hate to see him suffer the same fate. He followed the flick that made him a big star, "Speed" with the bad "Johnny Nemonic." Then came "A Walk in the Clouds," liked by the critics, but just so-so at the box office.

He turned down the "Speed" sequel to travel with his rock band and supposedly because he hated the body building "Speed 1-2" require.

Now Reeves' newest movie "Chain Reaction" has all the ingredients for a successful action thriller on paper, but when it hits the big screen the magic doesn't happen. While the action part is still thrilling, the plot is either too clever, or too confusing, and all the actors, except for Freeman, are in need of stronger direction by Andrew Davis who was so successful with "The Fugitive."

After a while we stopped trying to follow the complicated, and at times silly turn of events, especially when government duplicity jumps in, and sat back to appreciate the performance by Morgan Freeman who plays the mysterious head of a research foundation (is he as dangerous as he seems?) where Reeves and Rachel Weisz ply their scientific genius.

Reeves and Weisz do their jobs well enough, and we did enjoy many of the impossible chase sequences filmed in Chicago and Lake Geneva last winter, but the two don't really mesh in the romantic scenes and Reeves is no Harrison Ford.

The scientists are part of an

Rachel Weisz and Keanu Reeves

experiment to draw a new clean energy source from water when things suddenly run amuck and Reeves and Weisz take to the road after they are suspected of the murder of the head researcher.

Every law enforcement agency in existence is after them except for Interpol, Angela Lansbury and Peter Falk. Here, as in many of this summer's action pictures, they perform physical feats worthy of this year's Olympic winners.

The problem with the plot is that it's filled with too much information, enough for a love story, a sci-fi thriller and/or an ecological documentary. It tries to be a plot department store instead of concentrating on being a special small story boutique.

"Chain Reaction", rated PG-13, gets three out of five stars simply because, despite the confusion, Freeman's outstanding performance (so what's new?) and Reeves' likeability, made us stick to the end to see the outcome. —by GLORIA DAVIS

GIFT CERTIFICATES ON SALE

HOROSCOPE

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Be sure you know your prices before honoring that hefty price tag for that special item you want. Some rethink travel plans made a while back. Weekend socializing is both romantic and thrilling.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You're rather lethargic and have a hard time getting your enthusiasm going for routine tasks this week. The cure for your doldrums arrives later in the week in the form of exciting social activity. This goes a long way toward improving your mood.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You're somewhat dissatisfied with the progress being made on the job. At the same time, there is nothing really major going wrong. Perhaps you're being too picky. This weekend, you're delighted by the unexpected news you receive.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You've been counting on a certain special time but will have to postpone it to take care of a minor emergency on the work front. Extra responsibilities are likely to come your way as well. What you consider minor expenses really add up.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You start the week feeling tired and sluggish. However, this wears off as the week wears on and you ultimately accomplish much. Minor disagreements occur over the weekend with a loved one who's unhappy with you.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) If out shopping sometime this week, you and your mate are in direct disagreement over a certain purchase. On the work front, compromise is the key to a business concern. This weekend, opportunity knocks.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Your main focus of attention this week is on matters at home. Consequently, it's not a good idea to entertain guests. This weekend, couples seek some quiet romantic moments for themselves.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You're feeling very sorry for yourself and oh-so-misunderstood. This could lead you to a binge of impulsive shopping. If you're not careful, you blow your whole budget. This weekend, you're likely to have unexpected company.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) What occurs on the job, although unexpected, is ultimately to your benefit. You need to think twice before whipping out that credit card while out shopping. This weekend, you do better staying at home than socializing.

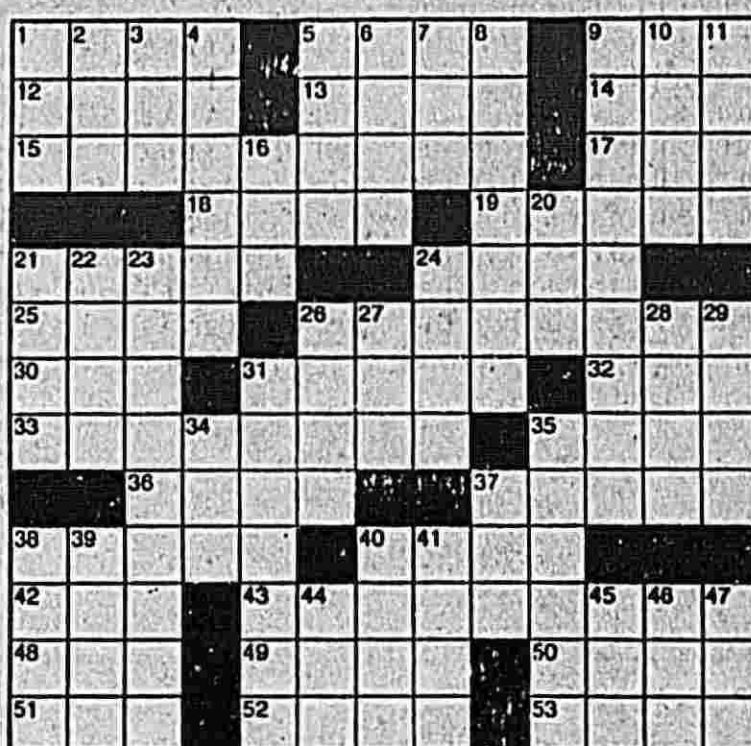

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) It's not a good idea to mix friendships with finances. Something being proposed on the business front needs to be explored further before making a commitment. Sudden romance beckons for singles this weekend.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You are wisely cautious about spending money now, especially since you're not in the position to do so. A situation involving your mate is the cause of some concern. This weekend, it's best to be spontaneous.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) That plan you think is so brilliant isn't capturing the imagination of family members. Some receive an unexpected gift or favor. This weekend, it's best to tend to domestic chores rather than gadding about.

Beat the heat in Phoenix by going underground

by JIM WARNKEN,
PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Phoenix's heat, while a welcome relief from our midwestern winters, can be downright unpleasant in the summer. That's when you should head underground!

I'm talking about the many caves just a few hours drive out of town. They range from the guided tour, family variety, to the walk-crawl-slide-on-your-belly type for the more adventurous. One thing all of these caves have in common is a year-round temperature of about 45 degrees!

Let's start with those not requiring ropes and hard hats.

Colossal Cave, on the way to Tucson, offers guided tours for about $4. Legend has it that in the late 1880's a bank robber disappeared into this cave with $62,000 in gold coins, never to be seen again.

Grand Canyon Cavern, west of Seligman on Route 66, was discovered in 1927. Guided tours were conducted via rope ladders until 1936. Now you can ride an elevator into the main chamber and follow a concreted guided trail.

For the slightly more adventurous, there is Lava River Cave northwest of Flagstaff. To get into this, you must climb through a huge hole into a sometimes icy chamber. The temperature here can get into the thirties!

Colder yet, is Ice cave northeast of Flagstaff. Warm clothes are a must, as 28 degrees is not uncommon as you venture the half-mile into the cave. Bring a flashlight.

Crystal Cave, in the Chiricahua Mountains, requires a stop at the Douglas Ranger Station for a permit and a $25 refundable key deposit to unlock the gate at the cave entrance. While you don't have to be an experienced "spelunker," you should have some knowledge of cave exploration and cave safety to visit this kind of cave. True to its name, Crystal Cave has crystals growing on its ceilings and walls.

Copper Queen underground mine is, as the name implies, not a cave but a mine. The 75-minute tour leading 1,800 feet into the mule Mountains is worth the $4. You'll find this one near Bisbee.

What better escape from the Arizona sun than to see what is underground!

At least three times a week, the band practices at Fowler's place, a large farmhouse located in a clandestine nook in unincorporated Mundelein. Four hundred acres of forest and field surround the house, and the out buildings which he rents from an uncle.

Like a marriage, the group can't seem to live together, nor can they live apart. After a short split, they all resided at the farm house, but things didn't work out.

"We thought it would bring the band together, and one by one all the members started leaving," said Fowler. The fact that the musicians live in different areas seems to make the time practicing more enjoyable, explained band members.

What it boils down to is, Bacon Fat really loves to jam. "The whole reason we got back together was to make songs," said Fowler. And songs they do make.

Masterfully measuring the beat for the music is percussion-ist Podshadley. Known as the ultra-perfectionist of the group, Podshadley said prior to performing "You just have to be prepared."

At one point Podshadley reportedly wanted to perform jazz. However, the band as a whole agreed the drummer's desire for Frank Zappa-influenced tunes is a good idea.

Setting the pace with his bass guitar is Krysh, who often jams in the foreground near the head vocal. Generous in nature, Krysh says, brushing back his Jesus-like hair, "We try to help other bands." During barroom gigs, the brotherly love of the rock n' rollers forever comes to life when a couple of speakers, an amp or pick is loaned out to other bands in need. Music is a universal language, they all agree.

While Moller is not a doctor, like his nickname acquaints, he may be the proverbial physician of the group.

During the day, he repairs and fine tunes musical instruments at a shop in Palatine.

Fowler is a work of art in himself. The former moto-cross racer turned lead vocal is not shy about where's he's been, and where he wants to go. "It's not that we want to be in Circus (Magazine), our love is for the music," he said.

Their next gig is Aug. 30 at Smilin' Kugins, 5637 W. Grand Ave., Chicago.

The Lake County Educational Service Center will receive 55 computers and $5,500 for the purchase of modems and monitors. The computers will be used to augment the current supply of computers in selected Lake County classrooms to improve instruction, to upgrade current 286 models and below, and for the school library circulation cataloging systems.

Lake County Community Action Employment and Training Center will receive 35 computers and $4,000. The Center will use the computers to provide training opportunities in computer literacy skills for the economically disadvantaged.

Ameritech is donating a total of 1,000 computers and more than $100,000 to non-profit organizations and schools across its five-state service territory. The IBM-compatible computers were once used by Ameritech's consumer services unit, which has since upgraded its equipment.

Evolution of credit unions reflects changing times

MICHAEL H. BABICZ
Staff Reporter

Credit Unions may well deserve the title of survivors in the financial business world.

Originally begun as offshoots of large industrial plants and businesses, with the rampant movement to downsize, consolidate and relocate, many of the once large and prosperous and single-purposed credit unions were faced with tough decisions.

Close, combine or expand services.

In the case of Consumers Cooperative Credit Union, its membership has chosen to do only the later two and do them quite well.

In the latest asset statistical ranking among the 700 active credit unions in Illinois, according to information provided by the Illinois Credit Union League, Consumers ranks in the top 20 with assets in excess of $152 million.

Great Lakes Credit Union, the largest of the 22 active credit unions based within Lake County, fluctuates within the top five in the state with assets of $220 million.

"The trend which we've seen in recent years is a slight drop in the actual number of credit unions in operation, however, the actual number of members has increased," said Kevin Evans, public relations spokesman for the Naperville-based League.

"When credit unions close, they are tending to merge with another credit union," Evans explained, noting Illinois boasts 2.5 million credit union members statewide.

The League is joining credit unions throughout the United States and worldwide in observing Oct. 17 as International Credit Union Day. The observance began on January 17, 1927, when the Credit Union League of Massachusetts marked the birthday of Benjamin Franklin, one of the originators of the "thrift idea" which was the basic foundation of the credit union formation.

In 1948, the Credit Union National Association set the third Thursday of October as the observance, with state and local credit unions encouraged to "celebrate the movement and pay tribute to the founders and volunteers who keep the credit union development growing."

Most credit union membership centers around a "common bond," generally an employer or association. In Illinois, 79 percent of credit unions are tied to a occupational field of membership.

"The credit union philosophy is people helping people," stressed Martha E. Castillo, Consumers Coop marketing coordinator, noting the credit union logo is "two hands holding the world in between."

The success and ultimate survival of most credit unions is their ability to move forward and expand with the times. Many of the more successful credit unions, such as Great Lakes and Consumers Coop, offer the same services available at regular banks.

Initially begun along the concept of a savings and loan association, most credit unions now offer a wide variety of See CREDIT page C3

Gurnee Mills celebrates five years of shopping

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Charlotte Beske was on hand five years ago when the spanking-new Gurnee Mills Mall opened for business.

Five years later, she brought her three children to the Gurnee mall, ready to walk home with a hand print for a $5 donation.

"It is great—I love to come here during the week when it is not as crowded," Beske said. Her kids like to go to the dollhouse store.

Adam MacTaggart, 6 1/2, and his twin brother, Kevin, have visited the newer attractions such as Rainforest Cafe and the Toy Store.

"I was here opening day, but the kids were too young," Connie MacTaggart said.

A group of children made the bus ride over from Lake Villa's Pitter Patter summer camp. They, too enjoyed the celebration cake and mixing and mingling with the Gurnee Mills mascot.

"Seeing the mascot," Brendan Nabben said. They tried to give the mascot a name, such as Farmer Gurnee Mills, or just plain Frankie or Bill.

"The kids loved it," Kris Bacci of Pitter Patter said.

On a more serious note, the three-day celebration was also for the village officials and Western Development Corp. which eyed the 300-acre site more than six years ago.

"This is a way for us to give back to the community," Gregory

Humphrey, director of marketing, said.

On Friday just past 1 p.m. it was time to celebrate the five years with a cake cutting ceremony. The Lovin' Oven Bakery in Round Lake made a cake big enough to serve 1,000 guests.

Other events this weekend included the live broadcast of the WGN "Kathy and Judy" Show and a Saturday fashion show with mall customers.

"It is the value you get here at the largest outlet mall in the Midwest. The motor coach business has been tremendous. We had 2,300 last year and I greeted each of them," Doris Richardson, director of tourism, said.

Richardson said the mall has been a draw regionally, nationally and internationally. "We get a lot of groups from Japan, Canada and Germany. We work closely with the Lake County Convention and Visitors Bureau in tying the Mall with many attractions in Lake County such as Cuneo Museum and Long Grove," Richardson said.

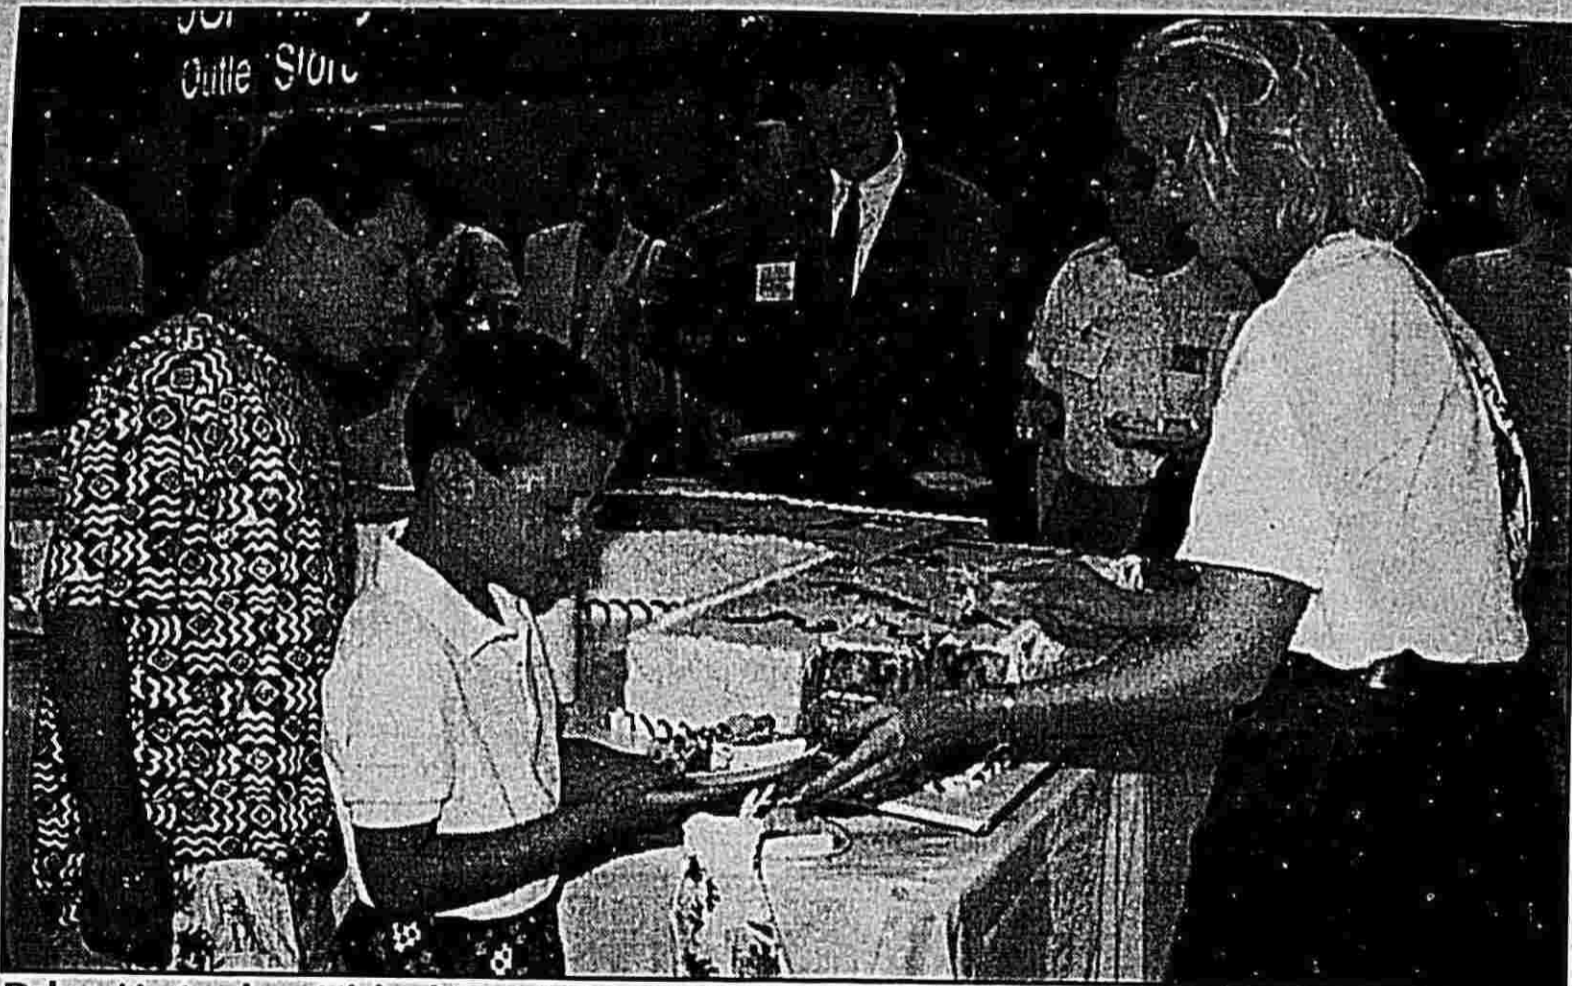

The addition of the Rainforest

Cafe has been "tremendous," she said.

Bass Pro Outdoor World will be coming to the Mills next spring as an anchor store. Also coming is the GAP Outlet, opening Aug. 23, and Computer City.

Gurnee Mills drew 16 million last year as it gained its share of the $16 billion tourism industry.

"We thought the Rainforest Cafe was cool. You could have three malls in Nashville in here. It is a great mall," Margaret Wheeler of McMinnville, Tenn., in town visiting relatives, said.

Midwest Executives remain optimistic on jobs, economy

Only 10 percent of business executives surveyed in the Midwest expect their companies to downsize or otherwise reduce staff in the next six months, according to the Midwest Business Monitor, Bank of America's survey of top executives at midsize businesses (annual revenues between $50 million and $250 million).

In contrast, three times that many executives (30 percent) expect to hire new employees later this year.

The remainder expect staff levels to remain steady.

"Despite the somewhat hazy outlook for stocks and bonds on Wall Street, these executives forecast a sunny Midwest economy with few storm clouds," said Marcus W. Acheson IV, executive vice president and head of Commercial Banking in the Midwest for Bank of America.

"Few executives expect inflation to become a problem, and even fewer are predicting higher interest rates.

Instead, they express optimism about business prospects for their state and the national economy in general. These decision-makers believe slow economic growth will continue to prevail in the second half of the year with little or no disruption."

-Minding your own business-

How to spot a loser

DON TAYLOR

In Life the loser's score is always zero. -W.H. Auden

You cannot spot losers by how they dress, what kind of car they drive or where they live. You cannot identify them by the color of their skin, their height or weight. However, there are two very easy-to-identify characteristics that will help you spot and avoid losers: their attitudes and their actions.

Zig Ziglar said, "Your attitude will determine your altitude." The Bible tells us we can always judge a tree by the fruit it bears. Therefore, the state of mind with which they approach any situation and the actions they take makes it easy to tell if folks are winners or losers.

Dead giveaways

- Losers always have an excuse. They always find it easier to fix blame than to fix the problem. Unfortunately, our federal bureaucrats usually fall into this loser's category. Their failures outnumber their successes, but they can tell you quickly whose fault the failures are. (Not their own, of course.)

- Losers love low standards. Losers would lower standards so all can win, rather than recognize that winning is without value if you expend no effort. You only need to follow our educational system to see this process in action. Johnny and Susie graduated, but neither can read or do simple math.

- Losers are easily discouraged. When little things go wrong they get upset quickly. When someone blocks their progress even for a moment they get angry, pout or stop putting out any effort.

- Losers always consider their own needs first. John Wooden said, "You can't live a perfect day without doing something for someone who will never be able to repay you." Losers don't understand the value of Wooden's wisdom.

- Losers develop a loser's vocabulary. They also talk with a whine. Phrases like, "We've tried that before," "I don't think that will work," "I can't," "We don't have to," and "This is good enough," are common loser's language.

- Losers put their boss ahead of the customer. They often don't realize that the customer really signs their paycheck, not their boss. Winners know that if they focus on taking good care of business—satisfying customers—the boss will be happy, too.

- Losers look for an easy out. Losers would sooner lie than tell the truth when there are negative consequences. A loser will always take the easy way out.

- Losers compare their efforts with other losers. It's the "I'm OK, you're OK" mentality. What the losers don't comprehend is that being equal may mean they're both mediocre. Losers band together and take comfort in each others troubles.

- Losers are satisfied with meeting quota. Losers are content with just getting by. You'll never find a loser raising the bar or pushing the envelope. They don't believe in doing more than that for which they are being paid.

- Loser watch a lot of television. Oops, I may have crossed over into hallowed ground here. However, I'll stick by this observation: Winner find better uses for their time than filling their minds with useless drivel day after day and night after night. Winners watch TV, but very selectively.

- Losers are always "tomorrow" folks. Call them procrastinators or gonna-doers, but losers will always put off doing things constructive as long as possible. Tomorrow never comes and the loser remains one still.

If you have a few loser's habits you would like to break, don't miss next week's column. In "How to be a winner," I'll share some of the best wisdom I've collected on becoming a more positive, productive person.

Major tenants come to Green Oaks

Leasing activity has been brisk at Green Oaks Business Center, a new industrial park currently under development by Hiffman Shaffer Associates, Inc. (HSA) in central Lake County. Two major leases have been signed at the business park's first 198,000 square-foot industrial speculative building, which is scheduled for completion this summer. Green Oaks' first two tenants are Valspar Corporation and Paslode, an Illinois Tool Works company.

Valspar Corporation, one of the country's largest paint manufacturers, has leased 140,000 square feet at the new building. The company plans to expand its distribution operation from its current Wheeling location, while retaining its manufacturing operation at the Wheeling plant. Valspar is a leading paint distributor for the retail and home center market. Mike Savard, Valspar's Director of Distribution, noted that Green Oaks Business Center was selected due to its central location, which is easily accessible from the company's Wheeling plant and Chicagoland expressways.

The second tenant, Paslode, has leased 57,000 square feet of space at the building, bringing it to 100 percent occupancy. Paslode manufactures nailing and stapling tools used mainly in residential construction. Paslode is the only company manufacturing cordless products for construction nailing and stapling applications. This division of Illinois Tool Works has experienced tremendous growth in the past few years. Sandra Wilson, Business Unit Manager, Cordless Technology for Illinois Tool Works notes that the expansion was necessary to accommodate increasing nationwide demand.

Green Oaks Business Center is a 25-acre industrial park ideally sited for warehousing, distribution and light manufacturing users. Reed noted that interest from the brokerage community and end users has been extremely high. "Lake County offers lower taxes and expenses to businesses relocating in the area, as well as a diverse labor pool," said Reed. "We have already started construction of Phase II which consists of a second 198,000 square-foot facility available for occupancy in January of 1997." The new building will be divisible to units as small as 48,000 square feet and feature 28' clear height, 42' X 48' bays, pre-cast concrete panel construction, 22 exterior docks with levelers, ESFR sprinklers and office and warehouse improvements to suit.

Kiferbaum Construction Corporation of Lincolnshire is the design/build contractor for both Phase I and Phase II of Green Oaks Business Center.

accounts including checking, savings, money market, first mortgages, Visa cards, automobile loans and traditional loans.

"The philosophy behind the foundation of credit unions is to pool your resources together and lend money to each other," explained Castillo. "Usually people got together by sharing some type of common bond, such as employment."

In the case of Consumers Coop, it actually grew out of a chain of grocery stores and a milk delivery service within Lake County. The credit union itself was formed in 1930 with total assets of $367. Eventually, the grocery store/milk delivery bond disappeared as the business went bankrupt, leaving the credit union membership in a dilemma.

In 1970, the membership voted to continue the operation of the credit union and a new "common bond" resulted in the formation of the Consumer Cooperative Association which has grown to 37,000 members with a majority residing in Lake County.

"Every credit union is in business to serve its members," Castillo explained. "We don't call our people who are with us customers, we call them members because they literally own the credit union."

Presently, the Consumer Cooperative facilities are headquartered at 2750 Washington St. in Waukegan, with branches at 1210 S. Lake St. in Mundelein and 728 E. Rollins Road in Round Lake Beach.

The Round Lake Beach facility is scheduled to be moved to a new location at Rte. 83 and Monaville Rd. which will include a drive-up facility as the other two locations already offer. Construction is underway with the opening planned for sometime in 1997.

For more information on Consumers Cooperative Credit Union call 623-3636. The Illinois Credit Union League can be reached at 1-800-942-7124.

Sunscreen smarts: choosing the right one

Selecting the sunscreen that's best for you has become more difficult with all the new products to choose from. But an informed consumer will make a more personally appropriate sunscreen purchase.

"If the public has a basic understanding of the advantages and disadvantages of the ingredients that go into the different sunscreen formulations, they can pick the one that's right for them," commented Dr. Marianne O'Donoghue, Associate Professor of Dermatology, Rush Presbyterian St. Lukes Medical Center, Chicago, during her presentation about sunscreens at the American Academy of Dermatology's Academy '96 summer meeting in Orlando, Florida.

"Protecting yourself from both UVA, (the sun's rays which will pass through window glass and will penetrate deeper into the skin and contribute to premature wrinkling) and UVB, the sun's rays that cause your skin to burn), should be the first consideration. Both UVA and UVB contribute to skin cancer. Choose a broad-spectrum sunscreen with at least an SPF (Sun Protection Factor), 15. It should be used all year round," O'Donoghue noted.

Physical sun blocks such as zinc oxide, talc, or titanium dioxide provide good coverage, are waterproof, and have fewer allergic or photoallergic reactions. Putting zinc oxide on babies' noses and just below their eyes, where they are the most vulnerable to the sun, will provide good protection. However, zinc oxide is white or opaque and talc and titanium dioxide creates a mask-like appearance.

Chemical absorbers such as PABA (para-aminobenzoic acid) and PABA esters are one of the main ingredients in sunscreens. It's important to look for padimate O in a sunscreen's formulation because it stays in the skin for a couple of days providing extra protection. The esters are usually non-staining and cosmetically easier to work with.

Cinnamates (octyl methoxycinnamate and cinoxate) are usually added to make-up, are non-staining, and used widely in Europe. They won't bind with the skin, however. Benzophenones (oxybenzone and dioxybenzone) will absorb UVA and UVB sun rays, but may produce allergic reactions.

Parsol (butyl methoxydibenzoylmethane) is the best of the UVA blockers, and currently is an ingredient in only two products, Shade UVA Guard and Nivea SPF 20 (available in Europe.) On occasion they may also produce an allergic reaction.

O'Donoghue felt that Water Babies and Children's PreSun 29 were good products for children.

Acne sufferers could safely sue PreSun 30 Active or Shade 30 Active. If swimming, make sure the sunscreen is waterproof. She suggested PreSun 29 Cream and Shade 45 Cream which were also good all-purpose products especially for fair-skinned people. All sunscreens need to be reapplied.

"Have fun in the sun," O'Donoghue added, "Just protect yourself and know what you're getting when you buy your sunscreen."

Furniture romance: 10 signs that it's in trouble

Admit it. The cozy embrace of your '70s sofa has gone from Spanish Modern to Spanish Inquisition. That '50s chrome dinette you picked up somewhere has lost the kitschy charm that tickled your fancy.

Letting go isn't easy. How can you be sure the romance has faded with the upholstery? You may want to start cruising furniture showrooms if:

Keeping score

1. That chest of drawers that got you through teething, puberty and your first apartment now can't even hold all your designer boxer shorts.
2. You'll only inherit Aunt Agatha's china if you promise not to display it in those wall-mounted orange crates.
3. You'd like to schedule meetings in your at-home office, but clients have a hard time getting out of the beanbag chairs.
4. You're tired of telling visitors that your door-on-two-sawhorses desk is a "design statement."
5. The cinder blocks that held up your loudspeakers since "Abbey Road" came out crumbled when you cranked up your new CD system.
6. You want to read yourself to sleep, but "The Firm" became "The Soggy" when your waterbed sprang a leak.
7. Your dining room chairs would match perfectly if they were all stamped with the name of the same funeral parlor.
8. That knockdown bookcase knocked down two neighbors and a tray of hors d'oeuvres at your last party.
9. Your kids just found out that "end table" is not the standard term for a telephone-cable spool with a lava lamp on it.

10. The guest of honor at your formal dinner is easy to spot: She's the one with the unrusted TV tray.

If three or more of the above describe your relationship with your home environment, it's time to rethink, sort out, and update for style and quality.

Getting serious

Getting serious about furniture means meeting solid hardwoods: materials you can depend on, such as oak, maple, alder, birch or cherry.

In fact, a reliable test of whether an old item is worth saving—or if you'll still respect a new one tomorrow—is "What's it made of?" Solid hardwood construction generally means durability, classic style, warm grain and comfortable textures—qualities that will hold their value and fit your home for a lifetime.

And you can still play around a little. Solid hardwoods adapt to the most eclectic settings. With a little thought, you can make that wicker porch rocker cuddle up to a new oak table or a walnut entertainment center.

Buying solid hardwood furniture doesn't take a long courtship. If you haven't had a lot of experience, talk to furniture retailers, contact a trade association or consult an interior design professional.

Furnishing without guilt

According to the Hardwood Manufacturers Assn., American hardwoods will be plentiful for generations to come, thanks to modern forestry. Many more trees are growing than are harvested every year.

And remember, some of those former thrift shop finds can be recycled back to the thrift shop. That way, old but usable pieces can lead extended lives and stay out of the waste stream. Goodwill Industries, the Salvation Army and other organizations in your area can supply pickup details.

Welcome visitors with beautiful walkway

The worst aspect of a landscape that I see time and time again is the excuse of a walkway, 2-feet wide in concrete, which leads to the front door of a beautiful home. Its awful and needs to be addressed. A walkway should welcome one to your home. We prefer 4-foot wide walkways so two people can walk side by side.

Try to pull off the architecture of your home for your walkway. Either match the color of your home or use a nice contrasting color.

Many different hardscape materials can be used such as; brick, which come in many different shapes and colors; flagstone steppers for informal entryways. They come in earth tone brown colors as well as the limestone, and slate or bluestone is another option for an exquisite entry-way.

Concrete stoops and steps are another feature that is bothersome on certain sites, especially when the stoop itself is so small you feel as tho your going to fall off if you don't rush inside.

Many times decorative brick, flagstone, or bluestone can be applied over your existing stoop. Use a mason for this work or someone in the trade that performs this work on a daily basis. We sub-contract out this work and never have anything but a professional job done.

For steps, many times I'll design in Highland Brown Antique steps or random Chestnut steps, and if the site calls for it, even railroad ties steps. The key is to pull off the architecture of the home and make it a pleasant experience for one as they walk up to your home.

If using more than one material in your hardscape make sure they blend well together, and enhance the existing surroundings. Entryways are transitional areas and should lead someone, without question, to their destination.

This experience can become more pleasurable with dwarf, soft-textured plants on both sides of the entry-way or perhaps only one side. Make this type of planting flow and simple to the eye, leading one to the door or gate. Save all the bright colored, varied textured plants with the many forms for the viewing garden on your site.—by MIKE GRECO, landscape architect/owner of Mill Creek Nursery, Wadsworth.

Just remember

Chuck, I have not forgotten how you made me cry at the counter when I couldn't pay my water bill and walked away snickering. Remember, another election is coming.

Unfortunate

I'm a parent in the Grayslake school district and it's a shame that Elise McNeal was let go by the district because they don't like her style. She was wonderful for the children. I'm glad to hear she's staying in the area and will be able to give private lessons to our children. It's unfortunate the school district doesn't care about the children, just their politics.

Detracts pleasure

I'm calling in response to the comments made by the avid Bangs Lake skier. Those mirror-like waters you long to look at disappear at 10 a.m. due to the fact that jet skis and power boats start tearing up the lake when the no-wake restriction is lifted. Power boats hauling skiers and jet skis create the barrage of waves that pound and erode our shoreline, having a damaging effect on boats moored at public and private docks. You seem to think fishermen are the only ones that benefit from the 7:30 p.m. to 10 a.m. no-wake provision. Let me assure you, sailboaters, wind surfers, canoers, and swimmers are also water enthusiasts and, in addition to fishermen, seem to have no problem in sharing and respecting each other's water space. I'm sure the majority of jet skiers and power boaters are not reckless, but just one or two out on the lake definitely detract from the pleasure enthusiasts of these more tranquil activities enjoy.

Have a voice

I live in Wauconda and would like to thank Liza Johnson and Beth Hampel very much for their attempts to keep Wauconda the beautiful countryside community it is. If more people would voice their opinion and go against Mayor Eschenbach, who wants all this building and development, we would continue for many years to have a lovely little community.

Congrats, team

Congratulations to Brad Hammersmith, Tom Jonas, and Tom Ward, and the Grant Twp. Majors softball team, for winning the district and for doing well in the sectional tournament. It was a pleasure watching you and I'm waiting for next season.

Need answers

Tucked away on the bottom of page 10 of the Fox Lake Press is an article about chloroform in our well water. I'd like to know more about this. Should we boil our water or not drink it? What effect does this have on our children? Please give us some answers!

Party pooper

I'm calling for the man who lives on Pine Grove in Round Lake Beach with the black and white dog. Can't you let your dog defecate on your own property? You're rude and ignorant and don't want my kids sliding in your dog's mess. Keep him in your own yard!

Open your eyes

Who does County Board Chairman Bob Depke think he's kidding when he made the statement that there's no prostitution or gambling in Lake County? It's running rampant and has been for years. We should legalize and tax and regulate it. We should also take a look at the campaign contributions that Depke got from a corporation in Skokie, who wants to build a big office building in Mettawa.

Smoked out

Why is Fox Lake so backward when it comes to smoking in public places? We were turned away from a restaurant because our party of seven was too large for their no-smoking section. We can't take our granddaughter to McDonald's because it's always filled with smoke. Is there any restaurant in Fox Lake where we can enjoy our food without second-hand smoke?

Stick it to 'em

Isn't it a pity that Lake Zurich Disposal seized the opportunity to stick it to their customers, who are already suffering from the flood loss in May, by adding a hefty lump sum to their garbage bill for flood clean-up?

No reason

This is to the idiot who thinks it's okay for police to have road blocks to catch drunks. I have relatives and friends who are police and I have lost someone to a drunk driver, but that doesn't change anything. Unless they're looking for escaped convicts or murderers, they have no other reason to do it. You ought to wake up!

Great summer

Another year and Avon Twp. Youth Baseball comes to an end. I'd like to thank the coaches, managers, and parents who donated their time and energy to make sure our children had a happy and productive summer. I'd especially like to thank treasurer and coach Bill Lang and his family, who devoted all their time to the ballpark each evening and weekend. Thanks for a great summer, guys, we'll see you next year!

Punish as adults

I'm calling regarding the front page article from the July 26 paper about the three boys caught as suspects in the Round Lake Beach shooting.

While I commend the Fox Lake and Round Lake police in the capture of these suspects, I don't understand how Cmdr. John Laycock can say he doesn't consider this a gang-related shooting. These kids better be tried as adults and sit for 10 years. They can hook up with their gangs in prison, so they'll be right at home anyway. I'd like to extend my sympathies to the parents of all four of these kids. The parents must be devastated. It's time that kids be punished for their crimes as adults.

Sidestepping

I think the Round Lake Beach village board would be making a big mistake if they canceled the inspection process for homes being sold. It sounds like Mr. Webb is just trying to sidestep another one of his responsibilities. The process has proven very useful in the past and probably will continue to be so in the future.

Encouraging

Now that the Board of Education for Grayslake District 46 has encouraged another administrator to move on, let's hope it encourages others to do the same. See LIPSERVICE page C19

Why do adult students come to the College of Lake County?

Personal enrichment

Paula Menary, Antioch

A meaningful life involves much more than work, or even family. That's why many adult students come to the College of Lake County. They count on CLC to help them develop their personal interests and talents for a more rewarding life.

CLC offers many credit and noncredit classes that will enrich your life. All are taught by well-qualified instructors, and many are taught by faculty who also work in their fields outside the classroom. Here are just some of our intriguing course options:

Art, music, and writing
Crafts
Home and garden
Recreation and outdoors
Human relations
Money management

CLC. Education for results.
Affordably priced. Close to home.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: What would you consider to be a reasonable period of time for a person to spend searching for a job on their own before they contact an employment agency or search firm for additional help? How much should a person expect to pay for these services? Thank you. Mrs. K.B.- Lake Villa

A: Dear Mrs. B.,
A reasonable period of time is as soon as the idea enters your mind that you may be seeking a change or suspect that you may be forced into an unemployed state. An Employment Agency should not be looked upon as a last resort. Licensed Agencies can provide a broad range of information to guide you through an interviewing process. Look for licensed Employment Agencies that do not charge applicants a fee.

Q: Please settle a bet. A friend mentioned that if I sign on with a search firm that it prohibits me from being able to continue to look on my own as well. The idea sounds ridiculous. W.S.-Libertyville

A: Dear W.S.,
It should sound ridiculous and it is! Make sure that you are not signing anything to that fact. Whether or not a service is instrumental in making that happen or you do it on your own. The most important thing is to have wages coming in. Register with one that you feel will benefit your type of employment needs. Be open about what your likes and dislikes are. Focus more on what you want to do and less on what you are just willing to settle for. Communicate honestly to your Counselor yet keep an open mind. Quite often a person sees themselves going in one direction only, while a professional licensed counselor often sees various road and avenues of potential career changes or availabilities that otherwise may never have occurred to you. If for nothing else finding out what may lay ahead is probably intriguing enough to make anyone seeking a career change to jump at the chance to make an appointment. Always read any materials that you are asked to sign...anywhere! Look for those employment services that do not charge applicants a fee. Measure the success of your search by the results that you are seeing. Has there been good activity and communication between you and your counselor? Have you been set up with desirable interviews. Basically...do you see it working for you? If the answer is yes...great...if no...move to another...all the while continuing to look on your own and networking wherever possible.

PET OF THE WEEK

"RUSTY"

"Rusty" is a handsome male short coated shepherd/retriever mix. At seven years "young", Rusty is in the prime of his life and he has many wonderful years ahead. Rusty has a beautiful reddish brown coat, and is a sturdily built larger mid-size. But the best thing about Rusty is his personality. Rusty is energetic and very playful. He loves treats and has the attentiveness and responsiveness that will keep him young at heart for many years to come. Rusty is a people-loving dog. He is exceptionally affectionate and possesses a winning personality. This is a dog that truly loves life, and has so much to give. Please give a great dog the chance to spend the best years of his life, in a loving home and with a caring family. He will thank you with devotion, loyalty and an endlessly wagging tail!

IMAGE

The brick, glass and stone exterior of the Image emit an aura of elegance that is coveted in today's home design market. Step through the covered entry, into a wide foyer that is open to the upper level, and the meticulous planning of this 3469 square foot beauty becomes evident.

The first floor accommodates the majority of communal living areas in the floor design. The foyer, with a guest closet on either side, opens to the living room on the right and the formal dining room on the left. The dining room, boasting a built-in arched showcase, abuts the walk-through kitchen. This arrangement permits the host to serve a sumptuous meal without neglecting company. The spacious kitchen features an island cooktop, trash compactor and double ovens. To spare you guests any inconvenience from the weather when departing, a covered porte-cochere is accessible through a side door.

The comfortable living room, with a huge bay window, is another site the Image offers for gracious entertaining. Adjoining the living room is a combination library and home office. Bookshelves line the walls, and whether you use this space for business or maintaining household accounts, you will appreciate the hidden safe room. A large utility placed next to the two-car garage, a half-bath and sunny breakfast nook complete the lower level.

The second floor holds all the sleeping areas. The isolated master suite is enormous. Next to the sleeping section is a roomy sitting area. Other amenities include a private patio, huge walk-in closet and bathroom with skylights, linen storage, twin basins and compartmentalized toilet.

Three additional bedrooms are on this level. They are all quite sizable and have substantial closet space. Any one of these, if not needed for sleeping purposes, could be converted for use as a music chamber, den or sewing room. The big recreation room will hold a Ping-Pong table, big-screen TV and a couple of couches. A side door opens onto an extended deck. A full bathroom is directly adjacent to the rec-room. The floor design of the Image also includes a 1584 square foot basement.

For a study kit of the IMAGE (335-120), send $10.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number) For a collection of plan books featuring our most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark, or call 1-800-562-1151.

VIPs may 'drop in' on Metra commuter ceremony

Officials request helicopter pad

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

During the ceremonial grand opening of the new Metra commuter train line, Antioch could be playing host to some mighty big shots.

President Bill Clinton has been invited, Republican presidential candidate Robert Dole has been talked about coming, and Governor Jim Edgar has expressed an interest. Frederico Pena, the federal Secretary of Transportation, has also been mentioned.

Rumors and anticipation are flying around the small town.

"We don't know who is coming," said Village Administrator Tim Wells. "It's been as high as Bill Clinton to the governor. We don't know for sure who is coming."

Why all the hoopla?—Because the North Central Service line is the first commuter railroad to start up in 70 years. Commuter service in Antioch ended in the 1950s.

Local big shots like State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) and State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) are likely to say a few words before the new Metra commuter line from Antioch to downtown Chicago officially begins service.

Metra bestowed the honor upon Antioch to host the grand opening Aug. 18.

"We're thrilled to be chosen as the site for the grand ceremony," exclaimed Mayor Marilyn Shineflug.

'We're thrilled to be chosen as the site for the grand ceremony.'

—Antioch Mayor Marilyn Shineflug

Shineflug will introduce all dignitaries at 1 p.m. Following several mini speeches, a train will depart at 1:40 p.m. and make three-minute stops at each station along the line from Antioch to Chicago.

In the meantime, village officials are gearing up for a grand ceremony for whomever may show up. Wells did note that he has been asked to provide room for a possible helicopter landing.

"That day is going to be special. I'm going to make it look good," Wells promised. "We want it to look good when everybody is out here."

He said a large tent will be pitched in the vicinity of the train station on Depot Street and nearby Antioch Lower Grade School. Orchard Street will be closed at Skidmore Drive, and Depot St. will be closed at Pickard Dr. and just west of Anita Avenue.

Parking will be provided at Lower

Grade School for people with special credentials to ride the train that day. A shuttle service from Antioch Community High School and Antioch Upper Grade may be provided for additional parking at those sites.

Nevertheless, the grand opening in Antioch on Aug. 18 could be of presidential proportions.

Villages prepare to greet new commuter service

As the eight-car train snakes southward on its maiden voyage, villages along the way will welcome the North Central Service in various ways. Some have planned ceremonies to coincide with the train's arrival.

Three-minute stops at each station site along the way will allow Metra Chairman Jeffrey R. Ladd to get off and make a presentation on bringing Metra to each community, said Metra spokesman Chris Knapton.

A long blast after two minutes will signal the train is about to continue its journey. Officials and others with invitations will board at that time for the remainder of the trip. Passengers will be encouraged to move to other cars and share in light refreshments. A banjo band will move through the train playing "I've Been Working on the Railroad."

"There will be a Metra person at each platform who will always know where the train is and how many minutes until it arrives," said Knapton.

The train will pull into Union Station around 3:45 p.m., turn around, and make its way back to Antioch, arriving around 5:30 p.m. after short stops at each village for passengers to disembark.

The progress of stations along the way ranges from a complete facility at Lake Villa to some with nothing but a platform. All are participating in the inaugural run in some way.

A rider's guide for the North Central Service line is available by calling 1-800-41-METRA.—by SUZIE REED

Pace makes a connection for Metra North riders

Federal anti-pollution grant provides funds for supplemental service

SPENCER SCHEIN
Staff Reporter

It's time to "pick up the Pace" as an alternative to the new train service along the new Metra North Central Service Line.

The public bus line is providing supplemental bus service between the new train stations in coordination with Metra. The cost for using Route 961 NCS-North and Route 960 NCS-South will be in accordance to the Metra zone, said Mindy Laflamme, Pace spokeswoman.

"It is a Metra Zone fare," Laflamme said. "It is not a Pace fare."

All Metra tickets and passes will be accepted for the bus service, as will cash. Pace passes and transfers will not.

The bus service is supplemental to the trains during off-peak hours, she said.

"When Pace is offering the service, there will be no train service," Laflamme said.

The buses used will be express-type transit coaches, with room for 41 passengers. Each bus will have reclining seats with comfortable padding and individual lights.

"They are designed a little differently for longer express trips," she said.

Most of the supplemental routes will run during mid-day and evening hours when the new Metra North Central Line is not running. Service will also be provided in morning hours on the Route 961 NCS-North Line to the Libertyville train station, where commuters can take the Milwaukee North Line to Union Station in Chicago, thus providing another alternative to commuters, Laflamme said.

"This is an opportunity for us to reach more riders and to generate more awareness for our services," she said.

The Pace employees are excited about the new routes, and the inaugural ride on Aug. 18. "We will have all of our buses at the stations," Laflamme said.

Pace's bus service for Route 961 NCS-North runs between Metra's Libertyville station on the Milwaukee North Line, to the Prairie Crossing/Libertyville, Round Lake Beach, Lake Villa and Antioch stations.

Pace's bus service for Route 960 NCS-South runs between Metra's Franklin Park station on the Milwaukee West Line, to the transfer point at O'Hare International Airport, to the Des Plaines station on the Union Pacific/Northwest Line, to the Prospect Heights, Wheeling, Buffalo Grove, Prairie View, Vernon Hills and Mundelein stations on the North Central Service, to Metra's Libertyville station on the Milwaukee North Line.

The new supplemental routes are only being provided for through a federal operating grant, which provides 80 percent of the funding. The Congestion Mitigation Air Quality grant is provided for projects that reduce congestion and improve air quality, Laflamme said.

The grant is being used to supplement money not found in Pace's operating budget, she said.

Antioch looks for depot to enhance quality of life

Chicago workers can commute from the country

In Antioch, construction crews are working a little bit harder to get the village's new commuter train station built in time for the Aug. 18 grand opening.

While the station may not completely be functional by the grand opening, the hope is to have at least the frame erected by then.

"The goal is to be up by the 18th, but the depot will not be functional," advised Village Administrator Tim Wells.

The new North Central Service will begin commuter service from Antioch to Chicago's Union Station on Aug. 19. There will also be a stop for a transfer to O'Hare Airport.

In all, the village is embracing the new train station with open arms.

Its location just east of Main Street (Route 83) is expected to boost downtown businesses.

Wells said commuters en route to and from the train station will pass through downtown and may stop at a restaurant to eat or drop off their car at one of the dealerships to have it tuned up.

"There will be a trickle-down effect," Wells said.

Mayor Marilyn Shineflug pointed out that any extra sales tax revenues benefit all residents of the village by keeping taxes down.

Moreover, the station is expected to attract businessmen who work in Chicago to make their homes in Antioch knowing that a commuter train is at their disposal.

"It will provide an opportunity for someone who works downtown to live here," Wells noted.

'The new train station and service will make Antioch an even more desirable place to live.'

—Mayor Marilyn Shineflug

The Antioch area has at least eight different residential developments in the building process.

"I think the train station will help with the development of our subdivisions," Wells said. "It will help fill them up."

Shineflug said the transportation choices available through the commuter train and PACE bus service along the line will improve the overall quality of life and possibly improve property values in the long run.

"It will improve people's quality of life because it offers more transportation choices to go downtown for business reasons or recreation reasons," Shineflug said.

Critics have argued the new growth that will come from the train station will hurt Antioch's small-town charm and character.

Nevertheless, the depot is in the works and is in pretty much in the same location where a commuter train station once stood from the turn of the century to the 1950s.

"We had professional planners look at various sites," Shineflug said. "The new train station remains in the heart of downtown and continues the tradition and history of the old depot."

The project was delayed because the village took extra time to rebid the depot with the hopes of saving money. Village officials are now boasting they saved taxpayers in the neighborhood of $125,000 to $175,000.

The depot will be built "substantially" under the $250,000 originally budgeted for the project, Wells said.

The new train station will provide a sheltered area. Original plans for community rooms were scrapped. There may be coffee concessions in the future. There will be parking for up to 80 people.

"The new train station and service will make Antioch an even more desirable place to live," Shineflug said.

The grand run of the Wisconsin Central line will be greeted by a crowd Aug. 18 at the Libertyville/Prairie Crossing station located on Casey Road at Route 137.

Mayor Jo Ann Eckmann the Village Board of Trustees and administration members plan to be on hand to greet the train when it arrives. The arrival time is scheduled for 2:11 p.m. A formal dedication ceremony will be held at a later date when the station is fully constructed.

The station won't be complete when the line starts operation due to construction delays caused by the heavy rains this summer. The platform is in but commuters won't be able to board the train at the station until the parking lot is paved.

The village is hoping to have construction completed by Sept. 7, and is trying to speed up the paving of the parking lot, according to Eckmann. It won't be known until opening day if the lot will be ready. If the lot isn't finished the celebration may be held in an alternate location.

"What they have to do in a short time is phenomenal," noted Eckmann.

A band arranged by nearby Prairie Crossing Subdivision will begin playing as the train arrives at the Libertyville stop. The subdivision, although located in Grayslake, is close to the station and has a bike path which runs to the station. The subdivision plans to bring banners, their lemonade stand will be providing refreshments, and Hector their draft horse will also be there pulling a wagon of spectators.

The station will resemble the old Libertyville depot. Gable brackets rescued from the old station will adorn the new facility. It is a 400-square-foot masonry structure lined with windows, and the surrounding exterior will be landscaped with prairie plants.

As part of the project improvements will be made to the Route 137 and Casey Road intersection including installation of a traffic signal and realignment of the intersection.

The estimated total cost of the project is $845,000 with the village's share anticipated to be $342,742. The remainder will be funded through the Illinois Department of Transportation, Lake County Chicago Area Transportation Study (CATS) and PACE.

The 11 acres of land for the station were acquired by the village as part of a 28-acre developer donation from USA Waste/Countryside Landfill and annexed into the village. The station is owned by the Village of Libertyville which will maintain it.

A commercial shopping center "Prairie Station" is also being developed across the street from the station on Harris Road and will cater to riders with convenience shops.

In a year or so riders will be able to access the Milwaukee District/North line from the station also, since the tracks cross one another near the station making it ideal to serve both lines. The village is in the process of developing an agreement for the new stop on the Milwaukee line.

"This is looked at as a regional station. We're very excited about the potential of this and there will be three access points in Libertyville," said Eckmann about the future.

Grayslake hopes for second station on new Metra line

ELIZABETH EAKEN
Staff Reporter

Grayslake doesn't have a stop on the new Wisconsin Central rail line but they are hoping to one day and will be out to greet the train as it makes the inaugural run August 18.

Mayor Pat Carey will be greeting the train at 2:09 p.m. when it stops in Grayslake at Center Street.

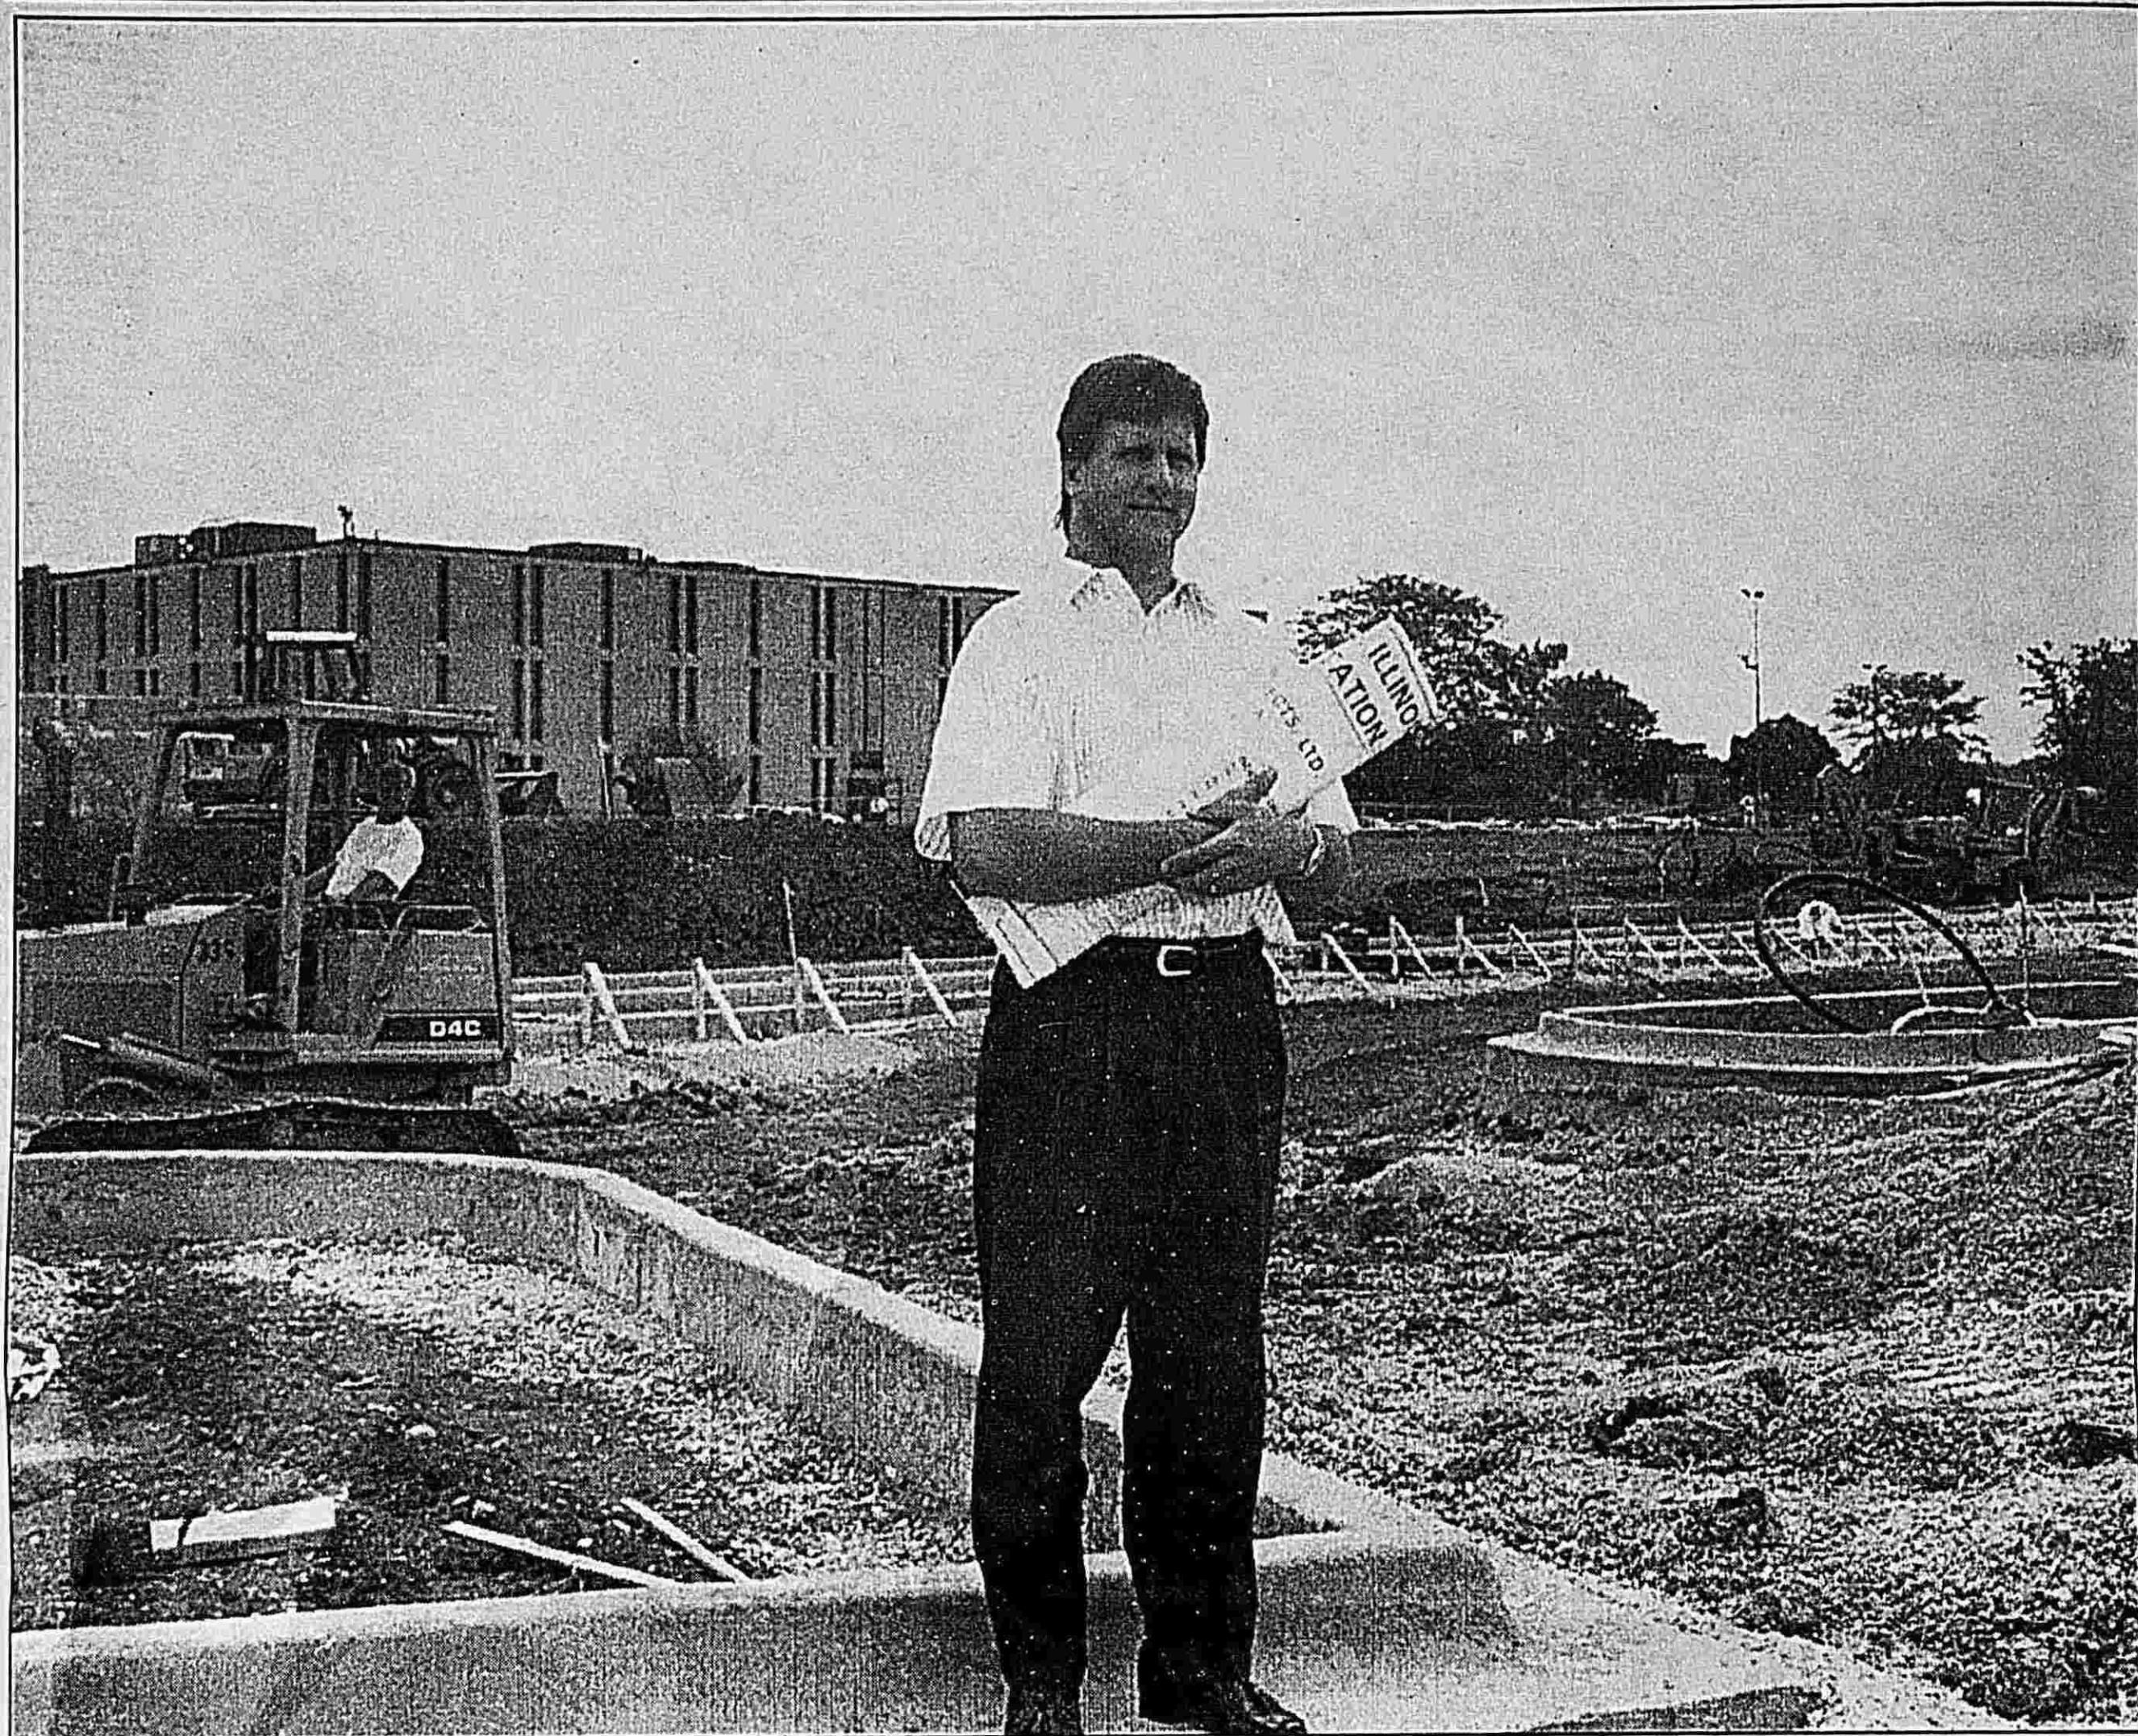

The village has earmarked the land at the northwest corner of Washington and Lake Streets as the preferred site if the current owners ever decide to part with the land.

"Obviously the sites in the surrounding areas will help the residents," noted

Carey of the new stations nearby in Round Lake and Libertyville.

She noted the location is ideal because many commuters wouldn't have to drive. The proposed station location is situated within walking distance for a large portion of the population and is near the downtown, high school. A day care center is under construction directly across the street.

Village manager Mike Ellis noted the comprehensive plan has identified this area as ideal for a station. He explained the bike path network and rail were all developed around each other as part of the overall transportation plan for the village.

The station in Mundelein is expected to give the village a shot in the arm as far as the downtown area is concerned.

Located on 7 acres at Division and Archer streets, it will be within walking distance of several shopping areas, and plans call for easy access via pedestrian and bike paths.

The village was a bit overzealous in its first projections on what the station should be, and was forced to go back to the drawing board when the bids for an 1,800-square-foot station came in way over budget. Subsequent compromises resulted in a 1,000-square-foot design with fewer amenities but room for expansion. Because of that delay, construction on the station itself is yet to begin.

"We will have the parking lot open," said Assistant Village Administrator Mike Flynn. "There will be temporary access to the train station platform. Work on the site and the buildings will continue."

Construction on the curbs, lighting, utilities and detention ponds is under way, said Flynn. Happ Builders Inc. was awarded the bid for a cost of $237,974. Officials predict completion in May 1997. During the winter months, commuters will have to wait in their cars or on an unprotected platform.

Amenities that were approved include an upgraded shingle roof, a metal ceiling, quarry tile, entrance mats, benches and an exhaust fan. The building will be air conditioned and a canopy will shelter the platform. Plans include a possible addition that could feature restrooms facilities and a concession area.

"It's a nice-looking facility; it will be simple and utilitarian," said Flynn. "It's something we're proud of, but it's not extravagant, or more than what was really necessary."

The search for a site began in 1990, when the comprehensive plan included four possible sites. The decision to locate the station at Division and Archer met with opposition from some quarters but was considered the best option, said Flynn.

"This was available at a very good price ($400,000)," he noted. "It's one large piece. The whole transaction was accomplished very swiftly and economically. It's still a downtown site."

The parking lot will open with almost 300 spaces. More land is available for expansion.

"It is very well located," Flynn said. "It will not produce a strain on parking in downtown."

State delays make Vernon Hills station a 'non-stop'

IDOT finally gives the green light for required traffic signal

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Unfortunately for Vernon Hills commuters, when the new North Central Service begins, the commuter train will fly by the Vernon Hills station without stopping.

The Vernon Hills station will participate in the grand opening ceremonies, but it will be excluded from commuter service from Antioch to Chicago until the station is built.

For nearly a year, Vernon Hills officials said they have been struggling with the sluggish bureaucracy of the Illinois Department of Transportation to approve a mandatory traffic light signal at the entrance of the station on Route 45.

IDOT demanded a traffic signal at the site before building a station, but has taken nine months to approve the designs for the signal.

"There won't be a stop here until we're ready," James Doyle reluctantly admitted.

'There won't be a stop here until we're ready.'

—Assistant Village Manager
James Doyle

The assistant village manager has been working with IDOT since last October to expedite the traffic signal process.

On July 30, three weeks before the grand opening on Aug. 18, the village finally received approval for a temporary signal.

"We just received the letter," Doyle said. "No one is more frustrated than me."

He added, "We're the only village along the line that was required to make improvements to a state road and install a traffic signal."

He expects the village board to approve the bidding process Aug. 20, a day after commuter service was set to begin.

"We'll have another opening for our residents," Doyle said. "We'll do something more elaborate when we open our station."

Nevertheless, the village is looking forward to a classy station for its many residents who commute to work in Chicago.

"It's going to be very attractive," Doyle said.

It will be located in a wooded area near Sullivan Woods. There will be a large canopy over the boarding area and sheltered walkways leading to the station. A clock tower will highlight the station's appeal.

In addition, there have been past talks of possibly developing the surrounding property into a small town square with small shops and restaurants.

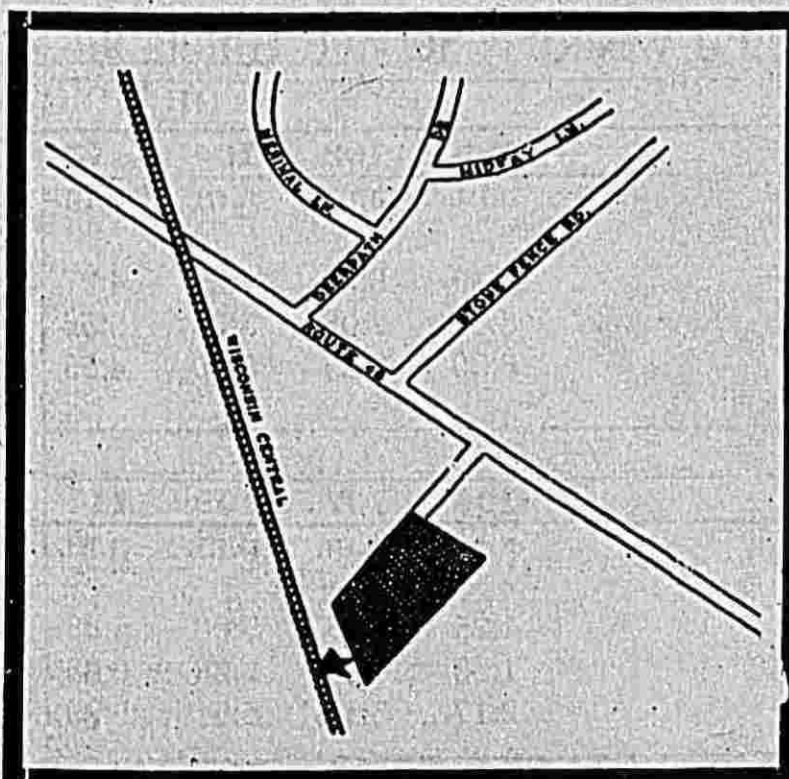

"It's an interesting planning concept, but I think it's a little too premature to begin planning for that," Doyle warned.

At the outset, there will be 228 parking spaces at the new train station. It will also be located across the street from a new upscale housing development known as Ranney Farms.

"It's going to be very attractive for people who will be living there and commute to Chicago," Doyle said.

All in all, Vernon Hills train commuters usually choose between Libertyville, Lake Forest or Deerfield train stations.

But in the near future, Vernon Hills commuters will have a station to call their own.

Prairie View depot closer to home for some riders

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

Vernon Township has been getting a lot of calls from people asking if the North Central Service Line will make its way to their area, although the Prairie View station is still under construction.

The answer is "yes," according to Township supervisor Bill Peterson.

Peterson, who doubles as a state senator for the 26th District, explained he is excited about the prospect of the train coming to town. "It's been a long process," he said. Peterson gives credit to Congressman John Porter, 10th District, for helping the project get started by assisting in the distribution of federal funds.

A portion of the funding came from Operation Greenlight—an IDOT (Illinois Department of Transportation) grant, with other monies from local funds.

Revenues from local government and parking at the station will go towards assisting in the maintenance and cost of the property. Other funds will be generated by advertisements on the platforms.

The station itself is in very initial stages of construction, currently undergoing excavation, said the supervisor.

Nonetheless, when Metra makes the inaugural run of the North Central Service Line Aug. 18, the Prairie View station will be one of the stops.

Though some of the villages will be having celebrations at their platforms, the Prairie View site will have a big shindig once it's complete, said Peterson. No date has been set yet on completion of the station, he added.

Located on about 2 acres, the site will have enough parking capacity for about 185 vehicles.

While there are no current plans for commercial development around the station, there will be vending machines inside for the convenience of commuters. The lack of sewer and water at the unincorporated site are reasons for the absence of substantial development at the site, said Peterson.

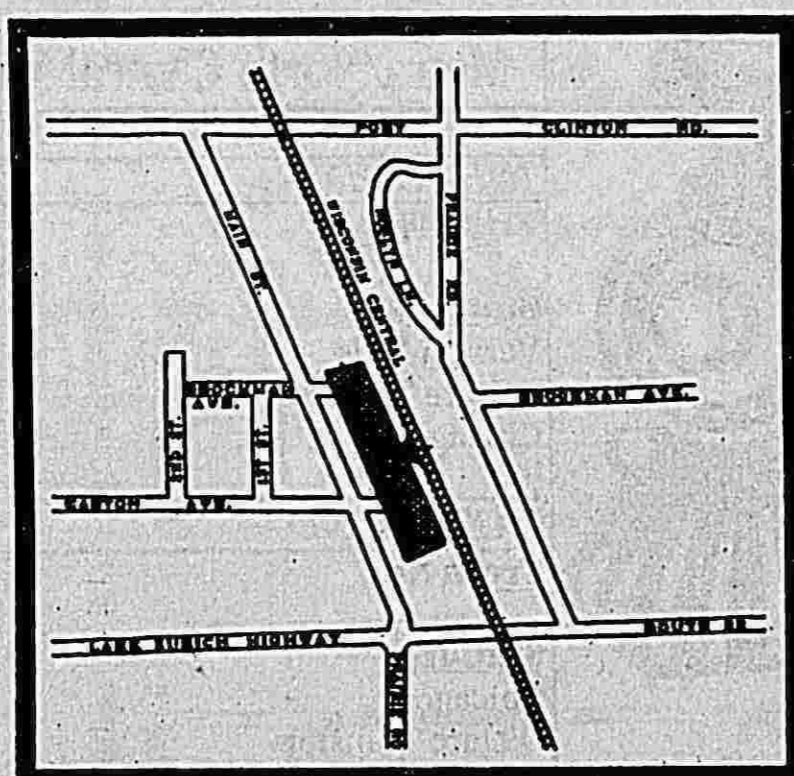

After about four or five months, Metra will complete a study to determine the number of commuters who will be utilizing the station.

For the time being, a used shuttle bus purchased by Pace will take commuters to and from the new facility with pick up at the township office located two blocks north.

Peterson said the new train line will aid in alleviating problems. "I think this will be very helpful in reducing traffic on our roads," he said.

Those who have previously been catching the train at the Deerfield station may go closer to home, Peterson explained. "A lot of people will be coming over to use our train—the North Central Line," he said.

Buffalo Grove passengers enjoy full-service station

Station a reality after 20 years in the planning

TINA L. SWIECH

Commuters in Buffalo Grove can get on board right in town, as soon as the new Metra station is up and running.

Assistant Village Manager Lee Szymborski explained the brick and stucco Prairie-style structure located along Commerce Court and Busch Parkway measures 1,100 square feet.

A new parking lot for those taking the train is large enough for up to 451 vehicles.

The depot is a full-service facility featuring a concession area for commuters. "Java Junction," where people in a hurry can grab a bagel and cup of coffee, is owned and operated by Buffalo Grove resident Nicole Riedel. The business is located right inside the station.

It's been a long, hard haul, but on Aug.

18, the North Central Service line will be coming into town.

Metra has planned an inaugural run of the train during that day, taking officials and special guests through each new stop along the way.

In Buffalo Grove, there will be a glorious celebration when the train rolls in.

A reception featuring acknowledgments for the many volunteers and officials who have worked to make the project come to life, will take place at the event, said Szymborski.

"This has been a terrific project," the assistant village manager stated.

He explained it has been a part of the Buffalo Grove master plan for more than 20 years.

"It's been a long, sought-after project and I think everybody's pleased it's gonna happen," Szymborski said.

Without current figures in front of him, Szymborski said he knows the project is running under budget. The estimated cost was $1.7 million.

The new station will enhance the area in two ways, he explained.

For one it will add a convenience for commuters who have been traveling to either Deerfield or Arlington Heights to catch the train. New commuters will help cut down on traffic congestion.

Shuttle service may assist new commuter rail line

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Transportation Management Association (TMA) officials are hoping their efforts to reduce congestion will work hand in hand with the new North Central Service line.

"We will be promoting car pooling to the Libertyville station. The village has set aside some preferential spaces for car pools and vans and MainStreet has provided incentives," Bob Gleeson, TMA director, said.

The TMA group is seeking a federally funded air quality grant which could lead to shuttle rides from people's homes to the train station and industrial parks around Libertyville.

Chicago Area Transportation Study (CATS) and PACE are assisting TMA in its promotion of the shuttle concept.

'The shuttles run by the Lake-Cook TMA are very popular.'

—TMA Director
Bob Gleeson

"The shuttles run by the Lake-Cook TMA are very popular. They have had 900 people per day and they have only been operating for two months,"

Gleeson said.

TMA's are generally formed as a group of residents or businesses are concerned about a particular intersection or roadway. At Lake County TMA, it was Route 45 congestion which led to the TMA's incorporation in 1992.

The TMA has some 58 business and municipalities as members. Municipal members include Libertyville, Lincolnshire, Mundelein, Vernon Hills, Grayslake, Green Oaks and Gurnee. The group meets monthly in Libertyville. It has heard about such topics as CATS' 2010 plan.

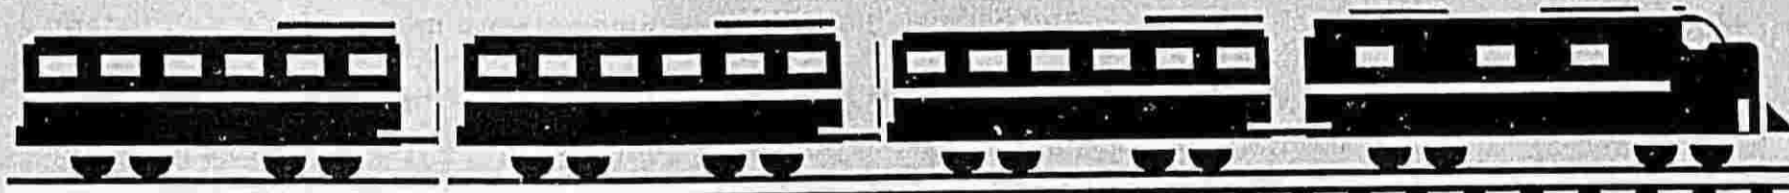

"It is hard to measure success in our business. Different people have tried different solutions to congestion. Some have tried shuttle buses, others bicycle paths and transit stations. There is a lot of inter model transit centers with bus and rail systems," Gleeson said. He noted the Prairie Crossing site as one example.

Some solutions to traffic woes may be adding a second track, or adding a commuter track to an existing freight track, as is under study in Wadsworth.

Meanwhile, some villages are also studying ways to break the love affair with the automobile. Gurnee officials consider alternatives to the auto an important part of future transportation planning.

Metra: Line belongs to the suburbs

Although Metra headquarters may be based downtown, officials don't consider the line to be a Chicago commuter railroad. There will be no ceremony at Union Station when the North Central Service Line makes its inaugural run.

"It's not a Chicago deal; it's a suburban celebration," said Metra spokesman Chris Knapton. "It's the communities down the line that kicked in the money for the stations and parking lots."

Although the city may be a workday destination, the major destination for commuters is "home" to the suburbs.

"We refer to ourselves as a Northeastern Illinois railroad," said Knapton.

Olds Cutlass rates 'Supreme' on comfort, performance

MICHAEL H. BABICZ
Correspondent

Times change and so do automobiles. Driving my dad's Oldsmobile has been something which I did do, literally.

When I was younger, I drove my dad's Jetstar 88.

This week I got the opportunity to drive a Oldsmobile Cutlass Supreme from Marquardt Motors, 100 Old Skokie Road, in Park City. "It's not your father's Oldsmobile."

The beautiful metallic blue Cutlass Supreme SC Sedan Series III is one of the top-of-the-line models which Oldsmobile offers. The one which I drove listed at the standard package price of $19,500.

The Series packages are grouped with certain options included on the particular model at a certain, pre-established price from the factory.

Series I is priced at $17,995, Series II at $18,995, Series III at $19,500 and Series IV at $20,700. These are simplified, one-value prices with no rebates, markups or discounts to be either added or subtracted.

Leases are available as well with the Series I rate at $239 per month for 36 months.

In driving the car, I found the engine to have good acceleration and run smoothly whether around town or on the highway.

The interior of the car was extremely quiet, keeping unnecessary outside noise out, but still being able to hear emergency vehicle sirens.

The trunk space appeared a little tight, however, a standard set of family luggage should fit without any difficulty.

An added feature to the backseat which helps expand the trunk is the rear seat folds down, creating an opening for longer objects. A rear seat middle arm rest was also an added positive feature.

When a person in the front passenger seat was all of the way back, it caused for a little crowding for a bigger person seated behind them.

The same safety and security options are included in all four of the various Series levels which Oldsmobile offers with just one exception. The remote-control keyless entry system is not part of the Series I package.

Standard package options include 4-wheel anti-lock disc brakes, three-point front and rear outboard safety belts and front and rear center lap belts, dual air bags, automatic programmable power door locks, Pass-Key vehicle security system, Halogen headlamps, foglamps, side and electric rear window defoggers plus dual power outside mirrors.

A 3100 SFI V6 engine is standard on all four packages. Series III and IV have an option of a 3.4-liter DOHC V6 which comes with a rear aero wing on a coupe, dual exhaust, special suspension, performance tires and variable-effort steering.

A 4-speed electronic-shift automatic transmission, power rack-and-pinion steering, 4-wheel independent suspension, on-board diagnostic system and maintenance-free battery are included in all four. There is an optional engine block heater available with each series.

Air conditioning, Tilt-Wheel adjustable steering column, cruise control, power windows and driver's auto-down, analog gauge cluster with tachometer, center console with storage armrest and cup holders, courtesy, glove box, underhood and trunk lamps, inside day/night mirror with dual reading lamps, dual visor vanity mirrors, along with headlamp and turn signal reminder chimes are standard.

A power trunk lock release is included in all except Series I. Only Series IV includes a dual-zone automatic climate control system and steering wheel touch controls.

When it comes to exterior options, 15-inch bolt-on wheel discs with all-season radial tires are part of Series I. The other three series have either 16-inch 5-spoke aluminum wheels on a coupe or 16-inch "starfish" aluminum wheels on a sedan, with performance radial tires.

A sports luxury package with a leather-wrapped steering wheel and shifter are part of all except Series I.

Pulse wipers with wet-arm washers are included in all four. A power sunroof with sliding glass panel is only available with Series IV.

When it comes to sound, the Jetstar had a standard AM/FM radio. Now days, there are all types of systems in cars.

A Delco ETR AM/FM stereo with cassette player, automatic tone control, seek/scan and digital clock are included in all except Series IV. Series IV comes with the same type of system, but includes both a CD and cassette player. A CD player style model can be added to either Series II or III. Series I and II has a four-speaker extended range sound system, while III and IV have a six-speaker dimensional sound system.

Reclining contour front bucket seats are standard with all four, including a four-way manually adjustable driver's seat with a six-way power driver's seat exclusively for Series IV. Cloth interior trim seats are part of Series I-II-III, with leather-trimmed seating areas for Series IV.

Various different colors are available including bright white, dark teal metallic, black, orange red metallic, medium green metallic, medium green gray metallic and medium beige metallic. Certain series models only offer certain color options due to the types of interior colors available.

Overall, I would rate a 1996 Oldsmobile Cutlass Supreme a 9 on a 10-point scale, with the only deduction being for the leg room in the back seat.

Persons interested in purchasing or leasing a Oldsmobile Cutlass Supreme are encouraged to contact Jack Meade, sales manager, or any of the Marquardt Motors sales staff at 847-249-1300 any day except Sunday.

This 1996 Olds Cutlass Supreme SC Sedan Series III is one of the top-of-the-line models which Oldsmobile offers. This one listed at the standard package price of $19,500.

COMING TO A STATION NEAR YOU.

Introducing Metra's North Central Service.

Metra's new North Central Service is big news for residents in Lake and northern Cook counties. Initial train service will consist of four weekday inbound and out-bound trains serving ten communities between Antioch and Chicago's Union Station plus a transfer stop at O'Hare International Airport, Remote Parking Lot F.

The North Central Service will be ideal for customers who travel to downtown Chicago during regular business hours. For customers with only morning business, an early afternoon train departure will also be available. To ensure service flexibility during midday and evening hours, Pace will provide supplemental bus service that links stations along the North Central Service with three other Metra rail lines.

Request your copy of Metra's "North Central Service Rider's Guide," which details station and parking information, train and bus schedules, fares and ticket programs. Call 1-800-411-METRA (416-3872).
